Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 12:07:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. kim Nero

PII PII

From: Dan King <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 12:08:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
REV. DR. Dan King

[redacted]

From: Paul Moss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 12:18:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Paul Moss

[redacted]

From: Charlene Henley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 12:40:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charlene Henley

[redacted]

From: Stephen Halpern <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 13:01:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Stephen Halpern

[redacted]

From: Nadya Tichman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 13:13:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Nadya Tichman

[redacted]

From: Suzanne Wallin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 13:23:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. Suzanne Wallin

[redacted]

From: Matt Hanes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 13:40:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mr. Matt Hanes

[redacted]

From: Rosalie McMenamin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 13:53:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Rosalie McMenamin

[redacted]

From: Jennifer Phillips McLellan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 14:03:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

As a religious person, the separation of church and state is incredibly important to me.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Phillips McLellan
[redacted]

From: Tad Kosanovich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 14:18:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Tad Kosanovich

[redacted]

From: Jennifer Ivers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 15:05:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jennifer Ivers
[redacted]

From: Gene Majewski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 15:11:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Gene Majewski

[redacted]

From: Robert Lawrence <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 15:32:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mr. Robert Lawrence

[redacted]

From: David Troiano <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 16:05:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
David Troiano

PII
PII

From: Sandra Rothwell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 16:25:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

According to Dietrich Bonhoeffer, if you think you have a Christian community that has any kind of power or fame attached to it, it isn't a Christian community. So, if you think you are creating a national community that is Christian, you are totally wrong. And you aren't abiding by God's word. Whatever you think about the US Constitution has nothing to do with it.

Sincerely,
Sandra Rothwell

[redacted]

From: James Long <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Sat, 04 Jul 2026 16:55:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mr. James Long

[redacted]

From: Suzanne Abrams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Suzanne Abrams
Fresno, CA

From: ked garden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
ked garden
Lemon Grove, CA

From: Novella Jane Landreth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Novella Jane Landreth
Chapel Hill, NC

From: Susan Loomis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Loomis
Renton, WA

From: Frank Gottbrath <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frank Gottbrath
Leland, NC

From: Dorothea Leicher <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. The separation of church and state is essential to help people know their conscience, which is necessary for them to act on it. This is not something for us to judge, but for God who knows all things.

Respectfully,
Dorothea Leicher
Columbia Crossroads, PA

From: Rene Leonic <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rene Leonic
Villas, NJ

From: Larry Ellis Reed <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I submit this comment to pray express my opposition to the draft report issued by the so-called "Religious Liberty Commission". As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I pray urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others (cf. apartheid South Africa's perverted Calvinism).

True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I pray urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself, excusing God and Country as defence. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Larry Ellis Reed
Winona, MN

From: Isabel Gutierrez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:44:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Isabel Gutierrez
Chicago, IL

From: Linda Bell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Bell
Santa Rosa, CA

From: Rebecca Parker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebecca Parker
Sacramento, CA

From: Julie Edwards <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julie Edwards
Independence, MO

From: RITABLUE BINGHAM <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
RITABLUE BINGHAM
Buffalo, NY

From: Leslie Winston <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leslie Winston
Alhambra, CA

From: Michael Harlan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Harlan
San Diego, CA

From: Bill Elbert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bill Elbert
Mountain Top, PA

From: Charlotte Wells <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:45:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As an Episcopal priest, I am vastly interested in protecting religious liberty, including the right to have no faith at all. Therefore, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity, especially the most vulnerable. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charlotte Wells
Pendleton, OR

From: Michelle Ward <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michelle Ward
Howell, NJ

From: Ingrid Gordon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ingrid Gordon
San Diego, CA

From: Sue Haug <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue Haug
Middleton, WI

From: "Fr. Michael Nicosia" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Fr. Michael Nicosia
Webster, NY

From: Sherri Justice <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sherri Justice
Yuma, AZ

From: mike jacobs <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
mike jacobs
frankfort, KY

From: Jim Brandt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jim Brandt
Chicago, IL

From: Allan Campbell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Allan Campbell
San Jose, CA

From: James Schoettler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I grew up as a member of a small religious faith; I know what it is like to be "different". I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Schoettler
St Paul, MN

From: Michael Biers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Biers
Palm Springs, CA

From: William Trunk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Trunk
Washington, DC

From: Julia Natvig <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I submit these comments in opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I believe in the dignity of every person and the free exercise of all types of spiritual beliefs, not a single narrow viewpoint. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite by elevating one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors, to promote a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment, and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julia Natvig
Sioux Falls, SD

From: Doug Couchon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:46:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doug Couchon
Elmira, NY

From: Helga Fellay <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Helga Fellay
Carmel Valley, CA

From: Mary Schmidt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Schmidt
Devine, TX

From: Eileen Robertson Hamra <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eileen Robertson Hamra
Springfield, MO

From: Glenn R Hufnagel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Glenn R Hufnagel
Buffalo, Ny, NY

From: Todd Musto <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Todd Musto
Fallbrook, CA

From: Michael Bernard <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Bernard
Nashville, TN

From: DOUG SORENSEN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
DOUG SORENSEN
Denver, CO

From: Carlos Alvarez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carlos Alvarez
Austin, TX

From: Sister Patricia Kirk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sister Patricia Kirk
Lutherville Timonium, MD

From: Constance Garcia-Barrio <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:47:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Constance Garcia-Barrio
Philadelphia, PA

From: Renee Windsor-White <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As an ordained Christian minister who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Renee Windsor-White
Lebanon, OR

From: Jessica Back <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jessica Back
Rocklin, CA

From: Janet Engh <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janet Engh
Staten Island, NY

From: Carla Albers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carla Albers
Berlin, NH

From: John Cervantes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Cervantes
San Francisco, CA

From: James Mundy III <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my extreme opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and every person's right to his or her own religious beliefs, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this ill-considered report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the precise opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others' religious viewpoints. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or even the rights of those who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief Christian belief system commands me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors and even of strangers. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable any discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and which would ultimately undermine Americans' religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single, narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege only a select few. All Americans are deserving of religious freedom. Religious freedom was, after all, one of the driving forces in the creation of the United States of America. Don't you agree?

Respectfully,
James Mundy III
Inglewood, CA

From: Julia Helgueros <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julia Helgueros
Ozark, MO

From: Merriel Bloomfield <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Merriel Bloomfield
Jacksonville, FL

From: Douglas Estes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Douglas Estes
Lakewood, OH

From: Heather-Heth Drees <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Heather-Heth Drees
Grand Forks, ND

From: Donald Handrick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donald Handrick
Santa Fe, NM

From: Lucy McGuffey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lucy McGuffey
Milford, CT

From: Kent Minault <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kent Minault
Knoxville, TN

From: Jean Reed <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:48:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jean Reed
Petaluma, CA

From: Heather-Heth Drees <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Heather-Heth Drees
Grand Forks, ND

From: Justin Truong <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Justin Truong
San Francisco, CA

From: Jaxson Zimmerman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jaxson Zimmerman
Mclean, VA

From: Karen Wineland <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Wineland
Madison, WI

From: Carol ritchell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol ritchell
Northfield, IL

From: Michael Abler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Abler
Sarasota, FL

From: Brian Dunn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Dunn
Henrico, VA

From: Diane Tollick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Tollick
Greenville, SC

From: Ron Huber <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ron Huber
Springfield, MO

From: Penelope Hoge <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:49:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Penelope Hoge
Boulder, CO

From: Jennifer Reinert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jennifer Reinert
Marquette, MI

From: Gerhard Weinberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gerhard Weinberg
Efland, NC

From: Margery Race <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margery Race
Muskego, WI

From: Dane F Smith Jr <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I am an active United Methodist, co-chair of my church's Missions Committee and a veteran lay preacher. My faith calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dane F Smith Jr
Berkeley Springs, WV

From: Gail Kazmer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gail Kazmer
Beaumont, CA

From: Douglas Vegge <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Douglas Vegge
Goodyear, AZ

From: Andrea Deveney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Andrea Deveney
Post Falls, ID

From: June Darling <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a committed Christian and someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. This endangers religious our liberty it does not protect it!

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
June Darling
cashmere, WA

From: Marie Curtis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:50:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. The report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. America is a melting pot of diverse peoples and their beliefs. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It hopes to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marie Curtis
Oakhurst, NJ

From: Robert Hammond <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:53:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Hammond
Sisters, OR

From: Mary Kazakos-Resh <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Kazakos-Resh
Bloomfield Hills, MI

From: Kathryn Capelli <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I believe deeply in the dignity of every person, so I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. It elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathryn Capelli
Bronx, NY

From: Tobias Wolff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tobias Wolff
Stanford, CA

From: Sandra Crippen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandra Crippen
Bend, OR

From: Pat Pire <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pat Pire
Wauwatosa, WI

From: Laura Lynch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laura Lynch
Meriden, CT

From: Terry Kelley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. This nation's founders realized that freedom of religion meant respecting the beliefs of all because many of them came to this land because they were not allowed the practice their faith in their home countries. Religious freedom does not mean that the majority can dictate what others can believe if their practice is not causing actual harm to other people and their freedom.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. I believe that Jesus held similar views and that is why I am a Cristian, and it calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism as envisioned by this nation's founders, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terry Kelley
Jacksonville, FL

From: Brent Rocks <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brent Rocks
Portland, OR

From: Denese Keltz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Denese Keltz
RESEDA, CA

From: Kathy Mason <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:54:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy Mason
Sebewaing, MI

From: Colette Krinock <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Colette Krinock
San Jose, CA

From: Mary Skirving <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Skirving
Franklin, TN

From: Christina Criss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christina Criss
Chadds Ford, PA

From: "R. B." <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

So-called "Religious Freedom" is meaningless unless it applies to devotees of ANY faith and of NO faith!

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
R. B.
Warwick, NY

From: Arlene Wolk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Arlene Wolk
Pittsburgh, PA

From: Michael Pan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Pan
Oakton, VA

From: Sterling Schrauger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sterling Schrauger
Green Lane, PA

From: Richard Stern <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Stern
New York, NY

From: Mary E Harrison <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary E Harrison
Taos, NM

From: Nancy Prowell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:55:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Prowell
Honeoye, NY

From: Gina Wilson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity and privacy of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to participate in my community with respect and protection for the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity, regardless to the personal beliefs they hold. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gina Wilson
Stoughton, WI

From: David Kaiman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Kaiman
Gainesville, FL

From: Michael Peters <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Peters
Conesus, NY

From: Lynette K Henderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lynette K Henderson
Chatsworth, CA

From: Allister Layne <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Allister Layne
Conyers, GA

From: Robert Peters <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Peters
Rochester, NY

From: Laverne Breed <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laverne Breed
Riverbank, CA

From: David Lauder <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Public schools should remain public! If parents want their children to receive religious education, then send them to church affiliated schools or start their own. And if churches start supporting political campaigns or parties, then they should have their tax exempt status revoked. Religious liberty means practicing whatever faith, or lack of faith each individual chooses. No one should be forced to accept the beliefs of others.

Respectfully,
David Lauder
Oak Brook, IL

From: Barbara Youngquist <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Youngquist
Morton Grove, IL

From: Char Esser <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Char Esser
Bryn Mawr, PA

From: Alan Gill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alan Gill
Las Vegas, NV

From: EUGENE SWENSON <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
EUGENE SWENSON
Franklin, NC

From: Marilyn Weiler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:56:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Weiler
Kernersville, NC

From: Carol Carrasca <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Religous freedom also means freedom FROM religion!!

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Carrasca
Duluth, MN, MN

From: Kathy Luksich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. It is borne out of selfishness and fear. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Catholic belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, (and the freedom to NOT be religious), not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy Luksich
Rio Verde, AZ

From: Penelope Davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Penelope Davis
Phoenix, AZ

From: Ryan Baka <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ryan Baka
Minneapolis, MN

From: KATHLEEN HALL <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
KATHLEEN HALL
Gaithersburg, MD

From: Kristy Mitchell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kristy Mitchell
Early, TX

From: Beth Adler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Adler
Framingham, MA

From: Daniel Hearn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:57:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Daniel Hearn
Henrico, VA

From: Nan Brunskill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:58:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nan Brunskill
Liberty Twp, OH

From: Rita Kain <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:58:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rita Kain
Earlville, IL

From: Jarrett Cloud <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:58:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jarrett Cloud
Stanhope, NJ

From: Sharon Leon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:58:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon Leon
Spokane, WA

From: Beth Hollingshead <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:58:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom means freedom for all, not just for some. This is about furthering an agenda of Christian Nationalism, not religious freedom.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Hollingshead
Philadelphia, PA

From: Carol Tennyson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Tennyson
Garden Grove, CA

From: "B. Thomas Diener" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
B. Thomas Diener
Albuquerque, NM

From: kathy grieves <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
kathy grieves
Peoria, AZ

From: Peggy Detmers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity and freedoms of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peggy Detmers
Rapid City, SD

From: Lois Karasek <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lois Karasek
Dowagiac, MI

From: Kimberly Kimberly <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kimberly Kimberly
Cedar Rapids, IA

From: Judith Sandeen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 16:59:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Sandeen
Hastings, NE

From: Ayaan Moledina <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ayaan Moledina
Austin, TX

From: Brian Clougherty <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My faith in God calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Clougherty
Durham, NC

From: Hillary Desmond-McNaughton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Hillary Desmond-McNaughton
Saint Louis, MO

From: George Houser <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
George Houser
North Kingstown, RI

From: Rebecca Jean Emigh <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebecca Jean Emigh
Tarzana CA, CA

From: Leslie Ritter-Jenkins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leslie Ritter-Jenkins
La Grange Park, IL

From: Anne Morawski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Anne Morawski
Albuquerque, NM

From: Martin Toepke-Floyd <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a recently retired Ordained Elder in The United Methodist Church. The Church has many policies on good government, non-discrimination, respect and tolerance for other faith traditions, and the separation of Church and State. It also is an inclusive church accepting people as God has created them with a diversity of ethnicities, gender orientations, abilities, etc.

The United Methodist Church rejects Christian Nationalism because it embraces a narrow and uncritical interpretation of Holy Scripture that endorses White supremacy, American nationalism and political authoritarianism. Any entity established by this current Administration that embraces such narrow and discriminatory theology is therefore suspect in its work, publications and positions.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Martin Toepke-Floyd
Jamestown, ND

From: Nancy Jeannechild <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

In addition to the above objections, which I agree with completely, I find it deeply offensive to misuse the teachings of Jesus to mistreat people because their beliefs are different. Jesus said, "Love your neighbor as yourself." He didn't say to love only the people who look like me, believe like me.

Respectfully,
Nancy Jeannechild
Baltimore, MD

From: Nelson Shenk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nelson Shenk
Lancaster, PA

From: Irene Raby <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:00:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Irene Raby
Dubuque, IA

From: Barbara Pray <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Pray
South Burlington, VT

From: RUTH Luce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
RUTH Luce
Wyandotte, MI

From: Chemen Ochoa <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Chemen Ochoa
Santa Fe, NM

From: James Kraft <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Kraft
Florence, KY

From: Beverly Mitchell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beverly Mitchell
Boise, ID

From: Bettie Forman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bettie Forman
Austin, TX

From: Marilyn Shepherd <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Shepherd
Trinidad, CA

From: Kristy Harms <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:01:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kristy Harms
Lakeville, MN

From: Rosemary Perez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:02:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosemary Perez
Baldwinsville, NY

From: Susan Roberts <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:02:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

This report ignores the reason our Country was founded; religious freedom. At the time the Declaration of Independence was framed, the religions considered were Christian. My own forefathers came for the freedom to live and practice as Quakers and some still practice that faith in Philadelphia, all these years later.

Over the centuries, people of other religions came to our shores for not only the American Dream, but also to practice other religions or no religions at all, under the protection of our Constitution. Freedom of religion is the cornerstone of our belief system and our faith and must be protected at all costs.

Respectfully,
Susan Roberts
FolsomFolsom, CA

From: Stephanie Sanders-Badt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:02:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Sanders-Badt
Castle Pines, CO

From: Eric Simpson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:10:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eric Simpson
Cincinnati, OH

From: Linda Drejerwski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:10:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Please just ask yourselves this hasn't Donald Trump done enough damage to our country without him not separating church from state too! Sincerely, Linda Drejerwski

Respectfully,
Linda Drejerwski
Bensalem, PA

From: Debra Stevens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a concerned and vulnerable American citizen and I am submitting this comment to express my ferocious opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.
I am of Jewish and Buddhist decent and I believe deeply in the dignity of every person and their right to practice their faith or belief system as they see fit without the constraint or the judgment of any particular majority or minority religious or political group of their fellow Americans.
I grew up attending a public school that provided free transportation for elementary students attending catechism at the end of the school day but not for those attending religious training at the synagogue, where school children were singled out for not reciting the Lord's prayer because it was not their tradition. My community fought to change that and did change that 50 years ago!
I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.
The separation of church and state is a critical lynchpin of American Freedom. We cannot march backwards and let down our guard against oppression and bigotry.

Respectfully,
Debra Stevens
Melville, NY

From: Carol Devoss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Devoss
St. Charles, IL

From: "JohnJ. Shaffer" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I never thought this would be a repeat battle in my life-time.

Respectfully,
JohnJ. Shaffer
Auburn, WA

From: Mark Wise <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Wise
Norfolk, VA

From: Richard Kesling <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Kesling
Clarksburg, WV

From: Stephen Mitchell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephen Mitchell
Newark, NY

From: Michael Couse <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and their right to choose or not choose a religion I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Couse
Woodbury, MN

From: Elizabeth Herten <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:11:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Herten
Cleveland, OH

From: Steven Vogel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my strong opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to please substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does just the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Spiritualist belief system calls upon me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls upon me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to please reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Back to your drawing boards, please!

Respectfully,
Steven Vogel
Falls Church, VA

From: Don Cuming <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Don Cuming
Bethesda, MD

From: Barbara Tewart-Darwin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Tewart-Darwin
Columbus, OH

From: Lisa Hammermeister <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I am a 70 year old atheist and this white christian nationalism is trampling my civil rights. They want a say regarding my body, education, lifestyle, books, environment, voting, health and dismantling the Constitution. Since you are so involved in your rights you don't care about mine. Do I stop you from going to church, worshiping, restrict Bible reading, get in your bedroom?

Respectfully,
Lisa Hammermeister
Granada Hills, CA

From: Sue Franckel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue Franckel
Reno, NV

From: Carlos Nunez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:12:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carlos Nunez
Reseda, CA

From: Martin Valens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Martin Valens
Cold Spring, NY

From: Suzanne Kirby <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Suzanne Kirby
Sag Harbor, NY

From: Lieselotte Bayan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lieselotte Bayan
San Francisco, CA

From: Deborah Gandolfo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

As a member of a non-Christian faith, I am extremely concerned about some efforts in parts of our country to make us a theocracy -- a one-religion state.

I support separation of church and state.

Sincerely,
Deborah Gandolfo
[redacted]

From: Kevin O'Rourke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin O'Rourke
Camden, NY

From: Christina Scott <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christina Scott
Niagara Falls, NY

From: Susanna Levin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susanna Levin
New Rochelle, NY

From: Barbara and Jim Dale <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:13:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

We submit this comment to express our opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As people who believe deeply in the dignity of every person, we urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Our belief system calls us to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of our neighbors. It calls us to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. We urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara and Jim Dale
Decorah, IA

From: Carol Lundrigan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:14:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Just one thing says it all:
Separation of Church & State, period!

Respectfully,
Carol Lundrigan
Lexington, NC

From: Daniel Belachew <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:14:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others.

True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

Please reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Thank you.

Respectfully,
Daniel Belachew
Norwood, MA

From: Margaret Hill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:15:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Hill
Queen Creek, AZ

From: Donlon McGovern <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:15:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donlon McGovern
Portland, OR

From: Frances Chaimowitz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:15:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frances Chaimowitz
Coconut Creek, FL

From: Patricia DeLscy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patricia DeLscy
Philadelphia, PA

From: Carla Behrens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carla Behrens
Longmont, CO

From: Steven Foss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Steven Foss
Van Nuys, CA

From: John Thornberry <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Thornberry
Louisville, KY

From: cletus stein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. All religions must be protected!

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. God is watching!

Respectfully,
cletus stein
amarillo, TX

From: Christopher Sorge <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:16:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Remember the exalted shall become humble and the humble shall become exalted. Do not let ash spew from your mouth lest the lions be unleashed.

Respectfully,
Christopher Sorge
Mount Holly Springs, PA

From: Linda M Jones <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda M Jones
Clemmons, NC

From: Laura Merrill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laura Merrill
Washington, DC

From: Pamela Chamallas <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

NO REAL BELIEVER WOULD USE RELIGION TO ACCOMPLISH POLITICAL IDEOLOGY. POLITICAL IDEOLOGY MEANS NOTHING TO TRUE BELIEVERS. WE KNOW CHARLATANS WHEN WE SEE AND HEAR THEM. THERE IS NO ONE RELIGION. SOME PEOPLE HAVE NO SHAME.

Respectfully,
Pamela Chamallas
Newmarket, NH

From: Nylce Prada Myers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, and as a Christian who both values the right and privilege to choose how I worship and respects the right of others to do the same, even if their beliefs are not my own, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite; it protects and elevates particular religious beliefs while disregarding the rights of others. This is antithetical to how our Founders understood religious freedom. In the United States of America, one religion must not supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My religious faith and my understanding of U.S. citizenship's rights and obligations compel me to protect the freedoms and well-being of all of my neighbors. They call me to participates in building and protecting a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nylce Prada Myers
Minneapolis, MN

From: David Hodam <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Hodam
Eldridge, IA

From: Victor Coriano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.
I am from a Protestant mainline denomination. There are a variety of Cristian expressions. It is wrong for any Protestant or Catholic Church h to assume that one is better than another. Your report does not meet those standards. This country was not founded on Christianity. Slavery is not Christianity. It was founded on the separation of Church and State.
This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Victor Coriano
Phoenix, AZ

From: Karen Bell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:17:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Bell
Madison, GA

From: "Rev. Richard Warden" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Richard Warden
Arnold, MD

From: Patience Robbins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patience Robbins
Greenbelt, MD

From: Ann White <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ann White
LAUREL, MD

From: Jamie Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a person of faith and an ordained minister, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the worth and dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of many others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My sincerely-held belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors--all my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity and inclusion. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Rev. Dr. Jamie Johnson

Respectfully,
Jamie Johnson
Stratford, CT

From: Marcia Hunter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marcia Hunter
Hilton Head Island, SC

From: Justin Bernard <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Justin Bernard
Webster, MA

From: Kate Strother <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:18:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kate Strother
Concord, CA

From: Terrone Rosenberry <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. The US Constitution does not allow the federal government to favor or discriminate against any religion or faith tradition over any other. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terrone Rosenberry
Jacksonville, FL

From: Carol Tobias <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Tobias
Post, TX

From: Kathleen Weaver <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

My religious freedom happens when our government respects all religion and does not advocate for a religion of their choice. Real freedom is represented in the First Amendment of our Constitution, freedom to believe or not to believe in a religion without a government enforced religion. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Weaver
Clermont, FL

From: Lisa Langcake <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lisa Langcake
Fort Mill, SC

From: Walter Bailey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Walter Bailey
Memphis, TN

From: Thomas O'Brien <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Thomas O'Brien
Palm Beach Gardens, FL

From: Lynne Brimecombe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lynne Brimecombe
Ann Arbor, MI

From: Donna Lee Sparrowhawk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Even the title of your name is Orwellian. For all you keep saying, there is a Constitutional separation of church and state. It protects the state, and it protects the church. I find the current government's view of proper faith deeply disturbing because I am a Christian, and it no way reflects my faith. It can therefore in no way protect non-Christian Americans.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Lee Sparrowhawk
Georgetown, TX

From: glen deardorff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
glen deardorff
Castro Valleycastro valle, CA

From: "Rev. Darla Bair" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As an Interfaith Elder, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report does not support true religious freedom, which includes safety for all people to practice whatever faith tradition they choose. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Respectfully,
Rev. Darla Bair
Lancaster, PA

From: Reynold Soucy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:19:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Reynold Soucy
Rockland, MA

From: Deborah Wells <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:20:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Deborah Wells
Ocean Park, WA

From: Mary E LaValley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:20:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary E LaValley
Perkasie, PA

From: Robert Parker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:20:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Parker
Wake Forest, NC

From: Allen Smith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:20:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Allen Smith
Clovis, CA

From: Polly Taylor <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:21:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Polly Taylor
Olympia, WA

From: Ruth Larson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:21:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ruth Larson
Vancouver, WA

From: michele rule <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
michele rule
Penacook, NH

From: Maria Whitaker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maria Whitaker
Albuquerque, NM

From: Angela Kantola <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Angela Kantola
Littleton, CO

From: Nathan Podoll <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nathan Podoll
Brooklyn Heights, OH

From: deni mack <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
deni mack
Pittsford, NY

From: David Kannerstein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Kannerstein
Haverford, PA

From: Susan Fernbach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I am a Jesus-follower. My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Fernbach
Olympia, WA

From: Felicia Killiebrew <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Felicia Killiebrew
Hazelwood, MO

From: Mary Ann Hoogeveen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:22:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Ann Hoogeveen
New Port Richey, FL

From: Sharon Baker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:23:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon Baker
Goshen, IN

From: Gregry Loomis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:23:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gregry Loomis
SEATTLE, WA

From: Nancy Nonini <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:24:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a progressive Christian, and as such, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, not just white conservative Christians, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Nonini
Sun City, AZ

From: Julia Rendon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:24:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julia Rendon
Des Moines, IA

From: Robin Devaney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:24:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robin Devaney
Middletown, PA

From: Peter Graboski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:25:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission - my ass! As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Graboski
Charlestown, NH

From: Joan Maples <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:25:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joan Maples
Midlothian, VA

From: Paul Riek <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:25:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Christian who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian faith calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Riek
Portland, OR

From: Brian Thorbjornsen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:25:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Thorbjornsen
Duluth, MN

From: Mary Crickmore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:26:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

The Johnson amendment has kept my church Sunday worship free from political campaigns from my childhood. What blessing it is to not have my pastor endorse any candidates. Even though a member of my church was majority whip of the House. It would have been disastrous to have him treated as a politician instead of a worshipper in the pew by me.

Separation of church and state is good for the church.

Respectfully,
Mary Crickmore
Carol Stream, IL

From: Donald Schwartz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:27:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donald Schwartz
Baltimore, MD

From: Steve Metzger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:27:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Steve Metzger
Tehachapi, CA

From: Ray Stranske <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:27:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ray Stranske
Denver, CO

From: Garth Lehman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Garth Lehman
Lexington, KY

From: Nancy Morton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and their Constitutionally guaranteed right to practice their belief system without government intrusion and to live under a system of government that does not establish any particular religion, I urge the Commission to revise its recommendations substantially before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates a narrow set of religious viewpoints possessed by some, while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would in fact or would tend to enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and that would ultimately undermine religious liberty itself as it is conceived under the Constitution. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Morton
Dallas, TX

From: Richard Gillaspie <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Belief is an individual right that cannot be forced. One can only believe what can be accepted as truth. No one human perspective can encompass the true nature of existence. If God exists as professed, origin of all existence, then such an entity cannot be limited to any human religion. Earth orbits an insignificant star, in a random spot in a galaxy of uncountable stars, in a universe of uncountable galaxies. Only our ignorance allows such arrogance.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Gillaspie
White Bluff, TN

From: Patti-Jo Mowrey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patti-Jo Mowrey
Du Bois, PA

From: Rene Kvidahl <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rene Kvidahl
Berkeley, CA

From: Ira Rosenblum <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report and preserve the rights and dignity of all people.

Respectfully,
Ira Rosenblum
NYC, NY

From: Tracey Katsouros <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:28:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tracey Katsouros
Waldorf, MD

From: Jeff McCormick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:29:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jeff McCormick
New Orleans & United Stat, LA

From: Anthony Ramey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:29:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Anthony Ramey
Los Angeles, CA

From: Jane Jones <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:29:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jane Jones
Arvada, CO

From: Maggie Englund <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:29:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maggie Englund
PORTLAND, OR

From: Cheryl Parsons <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. Our country was established by people seeking freedom to worship in the tradition they choose, not the chosen religion of the monarch. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cheryl Parsons
Carlisle, PA

From: Judith Looby <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Looby
North Fork, CA

From: Caitlin Sturgis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Caitlin Sturgis
Centennial, CO

From: Ralph Knapp <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ralph Knapp
Boyne Falls, MI

From: K Liddle <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Reminds me of the old "Moral Majority" who was upset when we did not subscribe to their narrow view.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
K Liddle
Charlotte, NC

From: Sylvia Teeuwen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:30:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sylvia Teeuwen
Williamsburg, VA

From: Clifford Manwiller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:31:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Clifford Manwiller
Turtle Lake, WI

From: Sylvia Dumford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:31:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sylvia Dumford
Kennesaw, GA

From: ALAN PRESSMAN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:31:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
ALAN PRESSMAN
Anytown, NJ

From: James Rood <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:31:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Catholic Christian, I believe deeply in the dignity of every person. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of all my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Rood
Levelland, TX

From: Holly Jackson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Holly Jackson
Gaithersburg, MD

From: Jerry Post <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. NOTHING trump does, NOTHING, is for the people. Everything he does promotes only himself! There is ample PROOF of this. He must be impeached and jailed for his treasonous actions. There has never been a more evil person!

Respectfully,
Jerry Post
Marble Falls, TX

From: Judith Livingstone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Livingstone
East Dennis, MA

From: Carol Wright <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Wright
Holladay, UT

From: Erv Ziese <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Erv Ziese
Stevens Point, WI

From: Nonie Woolf <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. In the past history of my indigenous community the oppression of one religion over another has had generational consequences. Reversing the progress toward religious freedom will be undone by this draft report.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. There are many other religions in our country that represent and respect all people, and they are not called Christian.

Respectfully,
Nonie Woolf
Browning, MT

From: Michael Hickey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:32:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Hickey
Nashua, NH

From: Patrice LaMariana <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patrice LaMariana
NY, NY

From: Beth Larson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Larson
Chandler, AZ

From: Linda Horton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Horton
Sun Lakes, AZ

From: Lilly Knuth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lilly Knuth
Garden City, NY

From: Charles Tazzia <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a lifelong Christian and I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charles Tazzia
Grosse Pointe, MI

From: Pauline Bonnen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pauline Bonnen
Brooklyn, NY

From: Kathryn M Dolezal <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. I am an old woman of 91 years and so thankful to have been born and grown up in this country.

As a Christian, a follower of Jesus Christ, I urge the committee to remember the parable of the 'good Samaritan'. He was an example of taking care of others in need, not ignoring or condemning them. I grew up with the example of my parents, a Catholic and an agnostic, who loved and valued one another even though they disagreed on religion. They lived into their eighties caring for one another and beloved by all our family members for their example. I would hope to see my beloved country a model for this - extending charity toward all whatever their beliefs are.

My parents also taught me that there was strict separation of church and state in the United States, established from the first by founders who knew what tragedy the opposite could produce. That means religion doesn't come into decisions about protection of civil rights access to healthcare or a broad and open educational system.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

Respectfully,
Kathryn M Dolezal
Waltham, MA

From: Tracy Kanno <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tracy Kanno
Cranston, RI

From: Samuel Dickey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:33:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Samuel Dickey
Youngstown, OH

From: Sue King <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue King
Pleasanton, CA

From: Susan Hanlon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Hanlon
Manchester, NJ

From: Kelly Andrada <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kelly Andrada
Hayward, CA

From: Meredith Harris <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Meredith Harris
Jonesport, ME

From: Vera Georgieff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Vera Georgieff
South San Francisco, CA

From: Amanda Merriman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amanda Merriman
Franklin, TN

From: Bob Moyer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bob Moyer
Souderton, PA

From: Rob Dodson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:34:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Religous freedom means freedom for all.

Respectfully,
Rob Dodson
Cottage Grove, OR

From: Cindy Shoaf <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cindy Shoaf
Salisbury, NC

From: Wendy Martin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wendy Martin
Belington, WV

From: pe re <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
pe re
Hayward, CA

From: Frank Bartell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frank Bartell
Philadelphia, PA

From: patricia smith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, and as a life-long Christian, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
patricia smith
Aberdeen, WA

From: Linda Owczarz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Owczarz
Oakland, CA

From: Michele Rhodes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:35:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michele Rhodes
Columbiana, OH

From: Ruth Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:36:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ruth Johnson
Sun City Center, FL

From: Christina Roe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:36:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christina Roe
FRESNO, CA

From: Glen Thamert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:36:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Glen Thamert
Jemez Springs, NM

From: KATE MCDERMOTT <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:36:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Freedom OF religion actually means FREEDOM FROM RELIGION (supported or required by a government. ).
This Bill of Rights amendment was/is designed to protect anyone's belief, Including Atheists.
It arose for ourfrom the oppressive European governments practices of violently supporting ONE religion... Ie Roman Catholicism on mainland continent and Church of England in Great Britain.
This amendment arose due to the founding fathers awareness of the terrible consequences of this trap in the name of "faith".

Christian Nationalist are ignorant and naive TRAITORS. I invite them to leave this country and take their silly righteousness with them.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
KATE MCDERMOTT
MEDFORD, OR

From: Kevin Vaught <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:36:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Vaught
Antioch, TN

From: "Rev. Alice Bradley" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:37:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, and personally as a Christian, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

As a Christian, I believe God gives us free will and that it is wrong for the state to interfere with our freedom to choose -or not- to have a relationship with God. God draws us to God's self in loving pursuit of our return love. Should the state compel religious ideology of any kind it interferes in the sacred relationship that God has with each person and the free choice God gives us to choose to follow God or not.
It is, in my opinion a grievous sin to mix governance of the state with matters of faith.
I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Alice Bradley
Thornton, CO

From: Mali Henigman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:37:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

The Constitution clearly states there shall be separation between church and state.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mali Henigman
San Francisco, CA

From: Margaret Petton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:37:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Petton
Albuquerque, NM

From: Andrea Frankel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Please record my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission! Since I believe deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Andrea Frankel
NEVADA CITY, CA

From: Michele Springsteen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michele Springsteen
Brunswick, GA

From: Gerry Jaffe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gerry Jaffe
Palm Beach Gardens, FL

From: Claire Jackson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Claire Jackson
Georgetown, TX

From: Carlos Malave <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

The health of religious freedom in our country depends on a robust separation of church and state. This is not a modern invention; it is the founders' own design. Thomas Jefferson, writing to the Danbury Baptists in 1802, described the First Amendment as "building a wall of separation between Church & State" — and it is worth remembering that the Baptists he wrote to were a religious minority seeking protection, not freedom from religion but freedom for it.

As a minister who has cultivated deep relationships with thousands of fellow ministers across all the major traditions of Christianity for the last thirty years, I can offer this testimony: our faith has not suffered persecution or discrimination in this country. On the contrary, on too many occasions Christians have received privileges that are denied to people of other faiths. In three decades of ministry, I have never once heard a fellow minister — Catholic, Evangelical, Historic Protestant, or Pentecostal — tell me they were discriminated against for being Christian. This does not mean discrimination has never occurred in isolated cases; to claim otherwise would be untruthful. But isolated cases do not constitute a national crisis, and they do not justify a national commission.

Respectfully,
Carlos Malave
Concord, VA

From: Dee Jackson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my complete opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. The separation of church and state is vital to our country.

Respectfully,
Dee Jackson
Austin, TX

From: Judith E Hartl <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith E Hartl
Philadelphia, PA

From: Diana Menshouse <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my strong opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I strongly urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I strongly urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diana Menshouse
Huntington, WV

From: Bruce Anderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:38:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bruce Anderson
New York, NY

From: Stephanie Bianca <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Bianca
Chatsworth, CA

From: Sharon Fortunak <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon Fortunak
Saint Paul, MN

From: Sydney Cohen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sydney Cohen
Wausau, WI

From: Donna Wood <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Wood
Lompoc, CA

From: Jean Wiant <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jean Wiant
Glenolden, PA

From: Blackie Straussburg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Blackie Straussburg
El Segundo, CA

From: Richard Gardner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Gardner
Gloucester, MA

From: William McCleary <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William McCleary
Livonia, NY

From: Maureen Gwynn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:39:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maureen Gwynn
Oberlin, OH

From: Brian Schill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:40:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Schill
San Antonio, TX

From: Karen Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:40:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. Our Constitution's First Amendment requires freedom of religion, and does not claim ours is a Christian nation.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one very narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. After all, Google says there are over 4,000 recognized religions in the world.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of all of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Williams
KANSAS CITY, MO

From: Kathleen Lyons <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:40:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Lyons
Saint Petersburg, FL

From: Addison Altman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:40:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Addison Altman
Brownsburg, IN

From: Warren Hodgkiss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:40:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Warren C. Hodgkiss

Respectfully,
Warren Hodgkiss
Harrisburg, PA

From: Paul Keller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Keller
Menomonie, WI

From: Jacquelyn Lacefield <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jacquelyn Lacefield
Austin, TX

From: P Gorman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
P Gorman
Hanover, MA

From: Mathew Drennan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mathew Drennan
Flower Mound, TX

From: Lu Ben <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lu Ben
Merrimack, NH

From: Mark Elman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Elman
Park Ridge, NJ

From: THOMAS LOWER <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:41:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few, BECAUSE EVIL IS AFOOT!!!!!  $$$$

From: Marilyn Raffaele <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Raffaele
Cedar, MI

From: Alexia Jandourek <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alexia Jandourek
Hortonville, WI

From: Suzanne Lamborn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Suzanne Lamborn
Nottingham, PA

From: Julie Baugh <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who is a Christian and believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others including an extremely large number of Christians. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julie Baugh
Westlake, TX

From: Sandy Steele <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I don't see how this report will protect religious liberty; instead it elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. My own religious beliefs call me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandy Steele
Coppell, TX

From: "M. Theresa Basile" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
M. Theresa Basile
Culver City, CA

From: Willem Arets <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:42:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Christian who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Willem Arets
Bath, ME

From: Penelope Ewanic <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:43:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Penelope Ewanic
Woodridge, IL

From: Stephen Patrick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:44:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.
Finally, I will note that God:
IS NOT WHITE,
IS NOT MALE
IS NOT AMERICAN IS NOT REPUBLICAN

individual faith is too important to be smeared by politics!

Respectfully,
Stephen Patrick
Lititz, PA

From: Kathy Escobar <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:44:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a pastor and someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

While I personally am a follower of Jesus, I believe wholeheartedly in religious freedom for ALL faiths and religious expressions and how important it is to protect religious liberty in a society. This report doesn't do that. It elevates Christianity above all other religions in the United States and that is a violation of one of our deepest principles--freedom of religion. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

As part of a Multi-Faith group for over 15 years, I am deeply committed to my faith as well as honoring and protecting my neighbors and fellow leaders right to theirs. THIS is what makes America great. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Please, maintain what is crucial to a healthy America--religious freedom--making room for a wide range of beliefs that represent all of our country not just the dominant part.

I hope you will rise above partisan politics and protect everyone's First Amendment rights.

Respectfully,
Kathy Escobar
Arvada, CO

From: "F. R. Eguren" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:45:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
F. R. Eguren
Redondo Beach, CA

From: Art Auerbach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:45:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Art Auerbach
Atlanta, GA

From: Maria Whitaker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:45:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maria Whitaker
Albuquerque, NM

From: Julie Martinson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:45:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

These protections serve all people living in America, and I will continue to strongly support their persistence in law and in effect.

Sincerely,
Ms Julie Martinson

[redacted]

From: Marva Lilly <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:46:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marva Lilly
New York, NY

From: Lois Porter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:46:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am someone who attends church every Sunday. I am opposed  to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lois Porter
Schenectady, NY

From: Elizabeth Leatherman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:46:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my extreme opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and treasures the separation of church and state on which our country was founded, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does just the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian beliefs call on me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. They call me to push for a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Leatherman
Providence Village, TX

From: Bruce Coffin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:46:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bruce Coffin
Hamden, CT

From: Paul Moss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:47:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Moss
White Bear Lake, MN

From: Kay Randall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:47:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kay Randall
Moorhead, MN

From: Penni Evans <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:48:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Penni Evans
Buena Vista, CO

From: Thomas Portney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:48:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Thomas Portney
North Augusta, SC

From: Sandra Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:48:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandra Williams
Bonita, CA

From: Judith Anderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Anderson
San Luis Obispo, CA

From: Cynthia Hautzinger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cynthia Hautzinger
Prairie View, IL

From: Lisa Baez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lisa Baez
San Juan, PR

From: Therese Hartwell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

This report does not protect religious freedom but rather deposited it. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Therese Hartwell
Nolesnville, TN

From: Robert Spencer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations and embrace the religions actively practiced by those outside the narrow confines of white Christian Nationalism before finalizing this report.

The United States of America is not a White Christian Nation. You may wish that it was, but that does not make it so. Since the Religious Liberty Commission appears to be a National Governmental creation, they should reflect the electorate, not the limited view of MAGA Reactionaries who currently represent less than 30% of a democratic nation. As a representative of the other 70%, I reject any legitimacy or authority of the so called Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Spencer
Everett, WA

From: Emily Hodgin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:49:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emily Hodgin
Roanoke, VA

From: Teresa Wurts <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:50:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Teresa Wurts
Princeton, KY

From: Mary Raynault <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:50:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Raynault
Sarasota, FL

From: Veronika Pietkiewicz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:51:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Veronika Pietkiewicz
Mountain View, AR

From: Timothy Gilmore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:51:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Timothy Gilmore
San Francisco, CA

From: Bernard Ewing <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:51:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bernard Ewing
Traverse City, MI

From: James Dinsmore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:52:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Dinsmore
Santa Cruz, CA

From: kathleen bren <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:53:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
kathleen bren
Norwood Young America, MN

From: William Arnold <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:53:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Arnold
Richmond, VA

From: Laurie Henderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:54:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

It also tells me that you are trying to undermine the first amendment. We are a democracy not a theocracy.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laurie Henderson
Austin, TX

From: Andrea Wilson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:54:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to change its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights of others. Religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My beliefs call me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. My beliefs call me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious freedom including freedoms from religion, not a narrow-minded political perspective that would grant special privileges to a select few.

Respectfully,
Andrea Wilson
Boise, ID

From: Robert SMITH <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:55:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert SMITH
York, PA

From: JL Angell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:55:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
JL Angell
Rescue, CA

From: Sheryl Rothstein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:55:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sheryl Rothstein
Encino, CA

From: Donna Tate <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:55:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Tate
Los Angeles, CA

From: Karen Gallagher <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Gallagher
Glenview, IL

From: Marshall Louise Mccorkle <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marshall Louise Mccorkle
Norfolk, VA

From: Stephanie Mory <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Mory
Clarks Summit, PA

From: sarah taft <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Separate church and state! Religion is all bullshit and our founding fathers knew they are all just pervs trying to control people by guilt and indoctrination. Outlaw all religions and the liars that promote them

Respectfully,
sarah taft
Pittsfield, NH

From: Linda Neff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Neff
North Bergen, NJ

From: Nancy Harray <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:56:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Harray
Monterey, CA

From: Elaine Minier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:57:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elaine Minier
Raleigh, NC

From: Beth Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:57:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Williams
Fayetteville, NY

From: Ericka Kreager <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:58:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ericka Kreager
Wausau, WI

From: George Craciun <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:59:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
George Craciun
Thonotosassa, FL

From: Alice Sparks <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 17:59:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Sparks
Eugene, OR

From: Kathy Pollock <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:00:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy Pollock
Tewksbury, MA

From: Lynn Santoro <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:00:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors and myself. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lynn Santoro
West Yarmouth, MA

From: Gina Cipriano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:00:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gina Cipriano
Louisville, KY

From: Greg D <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:00:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Greg D
Mount Shasta, CA

From: Pat Dimond <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:01:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I was raised in a deeply religious home. One of my first steps in making what I'd been taught as a child was to recognize and appreciate the many paths to God. I also recognize that we are called to be a community who looks out for those in need.

The separation of church a state is not optional. We cannot force feed one narrow belief system down everyone's throat.

Please stop and reflect before signing this.

Respectfully,
Pat Dimond
Westminster, CO

From: Sally Thomas <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:01:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sally Thomas
Webster Groves, MO

From: Tamsen Foley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:01:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tamsen Foley
Othello, WA

From: B M <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:01:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
B M
Otho, IA

From: ELLEN HARLEY <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:02:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The Religious Liberty Commission has produced a report and recommendations that promote one narrow version of faith, ignores the harm done by Christian nationalism, and dismisses the constitutional separation of church and state.
I am opposed to the Commission's recommendations. Our Constitution is very clear about separation of church and state and that includes vouchers for religious schools. Our founding fathers were also very clear about freedom of religion no matter the religious preferences of the individual. Let us stay true to the US Constitution.

Respectfully,
ELLEN HARLEY
Charleston, SC

From: Albert Turl <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:02:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Albert Turl
Carbondale, IL

From: Johnny Fifles <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:03:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Johnny Fifles
Jackson, WY

From: Owen Fairbank <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:03:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, whatever their personal belief system, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

The report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others and falsely claiming to protect religious liberty.
The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution prevents the government from establishing an official religion (Establishment Clause) and protects every individual's right to freely practice their own faith, or no faith at all (Free Exercise Clause).
True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Owen Fairbank
Port Townsend, WA

From: Constance Minerovic <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:03:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am So disappointed by actions being taken by the Religious Liberty Commission! What it is proposing Does NOT match up with Christ's teachings! Love/Compassion/ Acceptance MUST be practiced NOT HATE and Discrimination!

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Constance Minerovic
Northfield, OH

From: Sherwin Little <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sherwin Little
CINCINNATI, OH

From: "Rev. Shiloh Hoffman" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone whose call to ministry is rooted deeply in the truth that all are worthy and deserve dignity, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I am an interfaith hospice chaplain serving those of all religious backgrounds, whether Evangelical Christian, Jewish, Satanist, Hindu, Wiccan, or any other. My seminary studies and chaplaincy training both informed an interreligious call to ministry that I follow every day in the service of some of the most vulnerable in our country. The spirit of this report flies in the face of what "interfaith" means, and certainly what our founding fathers established: that there be a free exercise of religion for all. Instead of following one of the cornerstones of our country's moral fabric, this draft report serves to uplift the supremacy of one religious perspective over all others. The founding fathers would have balked at the consequences of this and other thinly-veiled attempts to uplift Christian Nationalism. It is the antithesis of "E Pluribus Unum."

Christian scripture should not be the basis for building an interfaith nation. This report aims to meet ends that are the exact opposite of what Jesus practiced and preached. To speak in words Commission members might better understand: John the Baptist baptized the eunuch. Jesus aligned himself with the marginalized above all else. God commanded his children to welcome the stranger. And now, this commission seeks to do the opposite. If any on the Commission are Christian, they should bow their heads in shame.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Shiloh Hoffman
New Bedford, MA

From: Bob Klein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bob Klein
Spotsylvania, VA

From: Marie Jay <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marie Jay
West Milton, OH

From: John Chase <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Chase
Memphis, TN

From: Jarrard Ashmore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:04:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jarrard Ashmore
Lake Station, IN

From: Frank and Elizabeth Rodriguez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:05:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frank and Elizabeth Rodriguez
Tucson, AZ

From: Patricia De Francis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:05:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to SUPERSEDE the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Neither does true DEMOCRACY!

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. The CONSTITUTION of our democratic republic defines the same values.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious PLURALISM, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

That sort of perspective is unacceptable, likely unconstitutional and DEFINITELY UNAMERICAN!

Respectfully,
Patricia De Francis
Saint Paul, MN

From: Joanie Beldin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:06:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joanie Beldin
Port Angeles, WA

From: Marianne Kast <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marianne Kast
Fresno, CA

From: Amy Steinberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amy Steinberg
Wayne, NJ

From: Art Smoker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Art Smoker
Goshen, IN

From: Sylvia Sanchez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sylvia Sanchez
San Jose, CA

From: Aidan Rodriguez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Aidan Rodriguez
Bronx, NY

From: Carolyn Reininger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Reininger
Mountain City, TX

From: Lucretia Jevne <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, and a leader in the faith community, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lucretia Jevne
New London, NH

From: Harry Knox <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:07:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Harry Knox
Quitman, GA

From: Alex Stavis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:08:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alex Stavis
New York, NY

From: Kathryn Burns <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:08:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Under the proposed changes, the only people enjoying religious liberty would be conservative Christians. I'm a Christian, but not a conservative one. I count Muslims, Jews, agnostics and atheists among my friends, and strongly feel they deserve to practice their beliefs as they see fit.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathryn Burns
Kerrville, TX

From: Heidi Wangelin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:09:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Heidi Wangelin
Silver Spring, MD

From: Charles Pill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:09:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charles Pill
Arlington VA, VA

From: Marilyn Stoops <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:09:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Stoops
Albuquerque, NM

From: Janet Klein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:09:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janet Klein
Fremont, CA

From: Jennifer Scull <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:10:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jennifer Scull
Chardon, OH

From: Karen Spradlin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:11:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Spradlin
Jacksonville, AL

From: Jason Van Leeuwen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:11:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jason Van Leeuwen
Van Nuys, CA

From: Hanna Floss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:12:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Hanna Floss
[redacted]

From: Jeff Ball <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:12:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission, which claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Respectfully,
Jeff Ball
Sacramento, CA

From: J Herringto <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:13:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
J Herringto
Edinboro, PA

From: Carole Venhaus <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:13:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carole Venhaus
Des Moines, IA

From: Paul Hague <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:14:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Hague
Newbury, NH

From: Patricia Bonesteel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:14:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I will add that having been a teacher for 25 plus years, my students came from various walks of life. Children pick up on how you treat everyone in the classroom. If I were to show through my actions that one child or a certain group of children was better than others, what would that teach? Jealousy and hatred for that group. That is exactly what this administration is doing. You sow hatred, you get hatred and no learning. The only way you make progress and build success to accept and appreciate differences. Learn and grow.

Respectfully,
Patricia Bonesteel
Baldwinsville, NY

From: Margaret Dyson-Cobb <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:15:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Dyson-Cobb
Lexington, VA

From: April Adams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:15:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
April Adams
Sumner, WA

From: Carolyn Codd <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:15:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

One of the driving reasons for this country's founding was to establish religious liberty for all persons--that we are each free to chose our religion, or no religion, and that the government cannot favor one religion over another.  This, to me, is a vey important principle.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Codd
Redlands, CA

From: Robert Fritsch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:15:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. And because we remain a secular country with religious freedom for all, my view is everyone is equal regardless of religious affiliation, or not, under the law. Our law protects us all.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Fritsch
Newington, CT

From: Bonita Bock <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:15:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bonita Bock
Denver, CO

From: Rose Vigil <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:16:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rose Vigil
Shingle Springs, CA

From: Edward Nardone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:16:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Edward Nardone
Grand Rapids, MN

From: Dr Chris Stout <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:16:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dr Chris Stout
Egg Harbor, WI

From: Janet Rountree <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:16:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

My parents taught me that our country has a distinct separation between church and state. They also taught me that different religious groups are all good, just different paths to our creator. As long as they don't discriminate against others, it's up to them to choose their spiritual path. To each, his own. We must accept and appreciate our differences. I believe that is what most of our citizens think.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.
This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janet Rountree
Suffolk, VA

From: Elliott Parkin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:16:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elliott Parkin
Pleasant Grove, UT

From: Terry Lowman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:17:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terry Lowman
Ames, IA

From: Marian Coger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:17:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marian Coger
Gaithersburg, MD

From: cheryl money <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:17:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
cheryl money
New Albany, IN

From: Jean Geissler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:18:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Jean Geissler

Respectfully,
Jean Geissler
Minneapolis, MN

From: Keith Becher <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:18:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Keith Becher
Satellite Beach, FL

From: Antoinette Marquard <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:19:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. In addition, allowing houses of worship to funnel dark money into political campaigns is tantamount to corrupting religious institutions.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Antoinette Marquard
Rocky River, OH

From: Nc Starrs <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:19:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nc Starrs
Marlboro, NJ

From: Jenni Roark <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:19:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect GENUINE religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jenni Roark
Cincinnati, OH

From: David Fandrich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Fandrich
Ankeny, IA

From: Valerie Poirier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Valerie Poirier
Berea, OH

From: Hope Crescione <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Hope Crescione
New Haven, CT

From: Alexander West <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my fervent opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the separation of church and state, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. This will do harm to Christianity, and to the greatness of America and its people. I want my understanding of Christianity to be improved by rubbing shoulders with people of other faiths. I want the Catholics, the Jews, the Buddhists, the atheists and many others in my life. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Respect the true history of America.

Respectfully,
Alexander West
Portland, OR

From: Gabi Clayton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I understand that this report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite — it elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I am the daughter of a German Jewish refugee who, during World War Two, escaped Germany to France with his family, and then to England as a high school student. He was interned by the British in Canada as an enemy alien. When he was released, my father moved to the United States where he met my mother and they had me and my two siblings. https://protect2.fireeye.com/v1/url?k=1824d156-7d68b806-1823f5b3-74fe48677126-91d57745ae1500ff&q=1&e=ae307cd0-04df-4e2a-a279-0e6ade0c0e2d&u=https%3A%2F%2Fgabiclayton.com%2Fabout-me%2Fheritage%2F

My husband and I are the parents of two sons. Our younger son, Bill, came out as bisexual when he was 14. When he was 17 in 1995 Bill was assaulted in a bashing based on his sexual orientation. "We don't tolerate fags here!" is what the four young men (teens also) screamed as they beat our son.

Bill survived that assault, but he committed suicide a month later because he believed he would never be safe in this world or in his country — aware of how many people are taught in thier faith communities and homes that LGBTQ people are less than human and are evil. https://protect2.fireeye.com/v1/url?k=f84022bb-9d0c4beb-f847065e-74fe48677126-cef1ef4f98905741&q=1&e=ae307cd0-04df-4e2a-a279-0e6ade0c0e2d&u=https%3A%2F%2Fgabiclayton.com%2Fbills-story%2F

As my father's daughter, as my son Bill's mother, as a nontheist Quaker, and as an American, my belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society here where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I do my best to bring that about and I urge you to do that also.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gabi Clayton
Olympia, WA

From: Lesley Forrester <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lesley Forrester
Turtle Creek, PA

From: Katherine McNeill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:20:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Katherine McNeill
Sacramento, CA

From: Gloria Cash-Procell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:21:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gloria Cash-Procell
Huntsville, AL

From: Elizabeth Hall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:21:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Hall
Porter Ranch, CA

From: Irene Nance <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:22:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Irene Nance
T Or C, NM

From: Maria Taylor <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:22:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow, politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maria Taylor
Davenport, IA

From: Kellie Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:22:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kellie Miller
Orange, CA

From: Christiane Schwager <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:22:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christiane Schwager
Sterling Heights, MI

From: Phallon Davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:23:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Phallon Davis
Santa Rosa, CA

From: Mark Brown <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:23:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Brown
San Antonio, TX

From: Philip Rich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:23:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I enjoin the Commission to please revise greatly its recommendations before making this report final.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I enjoin the Commission to please reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, health care, education, employment, and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would give a privilege to a select few.

Respectfully,
Philip Rich
Queensbury, NY

From: Davida Kristy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:24:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Davida Kristy
Playa Vista, CA

From: Lise Brenner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:24:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations. This country was built on religious freedom; that is: the freedom to worship as each one of us chooses.

This report, one the other hand, elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report must reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that privileges a select few. That is totalitarianism, not freedom.

Respectfully,
Lise Brenner
Brooklyn, NY

From: Patricia Dion <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:24:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patricia Dion
Strongsville, OH

From: Caephren McKenna <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:24:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Caephren McKenna
Oakland, CA

From: Ishan George <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:24:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ishan George
Sunnyvale, TX

From: Carol O'Neill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:25:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol O'Neill
Vancouver, WA

From: Yolanda Berumen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:25:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yolanda Berumen
Baldwin Park, CA

From: Lyle Wirtanen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:25:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lyle Wirtanen
Walla Walla, WA

From: Calvin Jager <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:26:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Calvin Jager
Grand Rapids, MI

From: casee maxfield <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:26:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
casee maxfield
Los Angeles, CA

From: Peter W Peters <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:26:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter W Peters
Rochester, NY

From: Kay Klinkenborg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:26:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kay Klinkenborg
Sun City, AZ

From: d burn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:26:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
d burn
Spring City, PA

From: Trisha Sheridan-Stanfill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:27:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my STRONG opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Christian who believes deeply in the dignity of EVERY person, just as Jesus did, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but IT DOES THE OPPOSITE. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. TRUE religious freedom does not mean using ANY belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to PROTECT the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with EQUAL dignity. I urge the Commission to REJECT any recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment, and ultimately UNDERMINE religious liberty itself. This report should reflect the genuine religious pluralism of the United States of America, NOT a single narrow politically-driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Trisha Sheridan-Stanfill
Fort Worth, TX

From: Nancy Preston <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:27:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Preston
NEW YORK, NY

From: BIRGIT HERMANN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:27:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
BIRGIT HERMANN
San Francisco, CA

From: Michael Lueras <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:27:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Lueras
Chatsworth, CA

From: William Smart <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:29:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Smart
Dothan, AL

From: Teresa Mathews <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:29:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Teresa Mathews
West Des Moines, IA

From: John Magisano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:30:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Magisano
Brooklyn, NY

From: Maryann Graziano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:30:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maryann Graziano
Plymouth, MN

From: Robert Long <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:31:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Long
Niskayuna, NY

From: Lisa Rustemeyer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:32:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my OPPOSITION to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. This is what our founders sought -- freedom to worship as we wish, individually and without state approval or coercion.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Fix this - our country depends on your careful attention to this matter.

Respectfully,
Lisa Rustemeyer
MANDEVILLE, LA

From: Richard Larmer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:32:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Larmer
Saint Louis, MO

From: Erin Alderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:33:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Erin Alderson
Huntingtown, MD

From: Saundra Lormand <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:34:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Saundra Lormand

[redacted]

From: Jo Ann McNaughton-Kade <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:34:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jo Ann McNaughton-Kade
Effingham, IL

From: Gerald L Soliday <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:34:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gerald L Soliday
Richardson, TX

From: Luci Ungar <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:35:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Luci Ungar
Sonoma, CA

From: Susan Peirce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:35:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Peirce
Santa Fe, NM

From: Dennis Kreiner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:36:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dennis Kreiner
Carpentersville, IL

From: Kathy Ebright <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:36:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow view that is politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy Ebright
Littleton, CO

From: Barbara Babin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:36:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Babin
Denver, CO

From: Stephan Lyman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:37:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Have you learned nothing from what happened in Ulster (Norther Ireland) from 1969 until the mid 1990s;
from what happened in England from the reign of Henery viii until the mid 18th century. Is it really necessary to repeat past religiose, mistakes, to reestablish religiose bigotry because that is what you are doing.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephan Lyman
Charlestown,, RI

From: Diane Pease <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:37:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Pease
Littleton, NH

From: Sue E <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:37:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue E
Cheyenne, WY

From: Marion Constantinides <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:38:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marion Constantinides
Pittsburgh, PA

From: Elenara Joubert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:39:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elenara Joubert
Montpelier, VT

From: Ocean Pellett <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:39:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ocean Pellett
Waterford, CT

From: Marion Difalco <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:40:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.
This report claims to protect religious liberty.True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marion Difalco
CINCINNATI, OH

From: Doug Henderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:40:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Despite what many in the current administration would like to think, this country was NOT founded to be a Christian country, OR to offer a particular religion more protection than others, OR more than those with no religious belief at all.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of ALL OF my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doug Henderson
Stevens Point, WI

From: Karla Giroux <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:40:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karla Giroux
Hawthorn Woods, IL

From: Sherry Perkins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:40:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sherry Perkins
Clarkesville, GA

From: Lisa Fuchilla <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:41:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lisa Fuchilla
Phillipsburg, NJ

From: Charles Davids <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:41:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charles Davids
Daytona Beach, FL

From: Kris Tostengard Michel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:41:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a member of the clergy who believes deeply in the dignity of EVERY person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

My Christian faith calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kris Tostengard Michel
Minneapolis, MN

From: Michael King <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:41:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael King
Jacksonville, FL

From: Dr John Brooks <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:42:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dr John Brooks
Tate, GA

From: Margaret Anderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:42:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Anderson
ALTA LOMA, CA

From: Marissa Williford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:42:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marissa Williford
Winder, GA

From: Diane Stevens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:43:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Stevens
Marlborough, MA

From: Lori Stefano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:43:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lori Stefano
Yelm, WA

From: Mark Johaningsmeir <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:44:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a United Methodist minister-retired. I believe that the concept and practice of religious liberty is truly American and follows the teachings of my church.

I submit this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one limited set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others.

True religious freedom does not mean using one privileged belief system to undermine the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My church calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

Therefore I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. I believe that this report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not one narrow religious tradition that would privilege a select few and exclude all others.

Respectfully,
Mark Johaningsmeir
Aurora, CO

From: Michael Haralson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:44:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Haralson
Atlanta, GA

From: Mary Hill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:45:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans. You cannot force a faith on a people.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms Mary Hill
[redacted]

From: Edward Kaeufer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:45:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Edward Kaeufer
Blaine, WA

From: Johanna Meyer-Mitchell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:45:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. As a woman of faith, it is important to me that everyone be able to find the faith, or lack thereof, that suits them. I would never be the believer I am if I had not been allowed to go through a phase of non-belief. As my faith evolves, certain tenets are rejected while others are embraced. Everyone should have that choice.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Johanna Meyer-Mitchell
Martinez, CA

From: Margot May <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:45:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margot May
San Francisco, CA

From: Jack Riley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:45:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jack Riley
Phoenix, AZ

From: Betty Burnett <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:46:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I believe deeply in the dignity of every person and urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I have been a Christian church-goer for 86 years. I love the church. I hope people join it >voluntarily< not under duress because they need a grade or a job or a benefit.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few!!

Respectfully,
Betty Burnett
St. Louis, MO

From: Elizabeth Kramer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:46:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Kramer
Pittsford, NY

From: Martha Vazquez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:46:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Martha Vazquez
Santa Barbara, CA

From: Deborah Nesselhauf <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:46:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Deborah Nesselhauf
Estero, FL

From: Leah Helmer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:46:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leah Helmer
Medford, NY

From: Lena Jurgens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:47:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lena Jurgens
East Wenatchee, WA

From: Jessica Fike <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:47:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jessica Fike
Pickerington, OH

From: Mark Peterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:47:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I want to to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Peterson
Memphis, TN

From: Robert Conant <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:48:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Conant
Boynton Beach, FL

From: James Deshotels <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:48:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Deshotels
Robertsville, MO

From: GARY HIGGINS <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:49:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
GARY HIGGINS
SCHULENBURG, TX

From: Dale Beaver <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:49:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dale Beaver
Chula Vista, CA

From: Kathleen Kilcommons <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:50:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. The USA is not a theocracy. Religious zealots murder others and believe it is their right. See the Zionist genocidal program in Palestine. See the Spanish Inquisition. The Catholics vs the Protestants. And that's only three examples. Stop. Just stop. Ideas are not crimes.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Kilcommons
Trumbull, CT

From: Kate Crecelius <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:50:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kate Crecelius
Lafayette, IN

From: Dawn Newcomer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:51:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dawn Newcomer
Spring, TX

From: Dave Ferguson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:51:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

After reviewing the draft report of your Commission, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does exactly the opposite. This report elevates one very narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism which respects the diverse viewpoints of all Americans, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dave Ferguson
Loveland, CO

From: Lenna Ojure <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:51:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lenna Ojure
Lexington, VA

From: Michelle Albers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:51:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michelle Albers
Castle Rock, CO

From: Mary More <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:51:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary More
Flourtown, PA

From: Neal Attinson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:52:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I would like to express my opposition to the Religious Liberty Commission's drat report. As someone who believes deeply in the separation of church and state, as well as dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report - which should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Neal Attinson
Sonoma, CA

From: Caren Caldwell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:52:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Caren Caldwell
MEDFORD, OR

From: Janice Warrington <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:52:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janice Warrington
Melbourne, FL

From: Nancy Oetter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:52:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Oetter
Naperville, IL

From: Diann Harris <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:54:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diann Harris
Saint Charles, MO

From: Jennifer Sheetz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:54:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jennifer Sheetz
Fort Worth, TX

From: Judith Basch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:54:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Basch
Fort Lauderdale, FL

From: Melinda Mullican <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:55:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian belief system calls me to do a Jesus would, to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, as our Founders intended, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melinda Mullican
Indianapolis, IN

From: Cherlyn Crowley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cherlyn Crowley
Broomfield, CO

From: Linda Bergeon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Bergeon
Medford, OR

From: Mark Makowski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Makowski
Sun City, AZ

From: Martha Auerbach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Martha Auerbach
Brookline, MA

From: Chris Highland <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a member of the clergy, who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My conscience guides me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It directs me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Finally, I strongly support the Johnson Amendment that keeps political partisanship out of the pulpit.

Respectfully,
Chris Highland
Asheville, NC

From: Reeve Love <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:56:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Reeve Love
Albuquerque, NM

From: Cathy Noga <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:57:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cathy Noga
Carnegie, PA

From: L D <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:57:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
L D
Oakland, CA

From: Dolores Scheelen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:58:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am 85 years old. My parents emphasized our country's freedom to practice our religion free from persecution and taught me to hold sacred my ability to vote. they paid from their limited income for religious education for me, wanting government to maintain separation of church and state. I strongly oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dolores Scheelen
MEDFORD, OR

From: Rebecca Carlson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:58:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebecca Carlson
East Peoria, IL

From: Judith King <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:58:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Along with many others, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith King
Vero Beach, FL, FL

From: Andrew Arellano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:59:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Andrew Arellano
Lyons, IL

From: Matthew Tarpley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 18:59:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Matthew Tarpley
Covington, GA

From: Frances A Rove <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:00:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frances A Rove
Leawood, KS

From: Melissa Grondin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:01:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melissa Grondin
Malden, MA

From: Jeffrey Jones <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:01:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jeffrey Jones
oregon city, OR

From: Emmet Ryan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:02:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emmet Ryan
Floral Park, NY

From: Terri Decker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:02:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terri Decker
Redding, CA

From: Keith Brintzenhoff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:03:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Keith Brintzenhoff
Kutztown, PA

From: Jim Hopkins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:03:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jim Hopkins
Oakland, CA

From: glenn gawinowicz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:03:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
glenn gawinowicz
Oreland, PA

From: Jean Berman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:03:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The United States of America was founded on religious freedom. The report and proposed action from the Religious Liberty Commission is not representative of this founding principle. The founding fathers were wise is accepting the separation of church and state. To change this would make the USA unrecognizable. Please protect religious freedom!

Respectfully,
Jean Berman
Paonia, CO

From: Johnny Hall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:03:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Johnny Hall
Dana, KY

From: William Yates <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:04:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Yates
Lothian, MD

From: John Stofko <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:04:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Stofko
Allentown, PA

From: Carlisle Levine <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:05:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carlisle Levine
Arlington, VA

From: Ramona Hallick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:05:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ramona Hallick
Toms River, NJ

From: Joseph Owen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:06:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

Speparation of Church and State is essential to religious freedom, and it always as been. As a deeply religious person, I have always been concerned about individuals being free to practice their religion. This is essential for all religions, so long as the rights of others are not being impinged on or that religious belief is not being used as an excuse to impinge on the rights of others.

Again as a deeply religious person, and as someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Again, as a deeply religious person, my belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors of all faiths as well as those who choose not to have any faith at all. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joseph Owen
Mesa, AZ

From: Shirley Pelletier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:06:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Shirley Pelletier
Conway, MA

From: William Phelan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:06:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Phelan
Tallahassee, FL

From: Dolores Arndt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:07:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dolores Arndt
Dafter, MI

From: j yudell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:07:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
j yudell
Santa Monica, CA

From: Roberta Moore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:07:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Roberta Moore
Littleton, CO

From: Barry Zuckerman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:07:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barry Zuckerman
Middletown, NY

From: Patricia Elliott <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:07:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am writing to express my opposition to the ideas in the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Although the report claims to protect religious liberty, it does the opposite. Religious freedom does not mean using one narrow belief system to thwart the civil rights, healthcare, or educational protections of people who believe differently.

My belief system demands that I work to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. I believe everyone should be treated with equal dignity. As a result, I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment. The report should reflect religious pluralism, not a narrow politically motivated perspective.

Respectfully,
Patricia Elliott
Horseshoe Bay, TX

From: Gail Heilbrunn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:08:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gail Heilbrunn
Cedar Hill, TX

From: Donna Maurillo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:10:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. If we truly believe in a God, then we have to acknowledge that this God created all of us as equals.

I am a practicing Christian, but I accept that people have other ways of believing and of honoring God. I seriously OBJECT to any legislation that treats certain religions as illegitimate.

I also object to religion being taught in public schools. Each American has been granted freedom to practice their chosen faith. To promote one belief system over another is against the FIRST AMENDMENT.

Our Founders were not all Protestants, or even all Christians. They purposely put freedom of religion in the very first position in their Bill of Rights. Let's not tell those wise Founders that they were wrong.

Respectfully,
Donna Maurillo
Scotts Valley, CA

From: Greg Kay <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:10:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Greg Kay
Cypress, TX

From: Peter Ware <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:11:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Ware
Medford, OR

From: Pam Pouchot <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:13:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Religious liberty does not refer only to Christianity. It is for all religions as well as those who are agnostic or atheist. The U.S. was not founded as a Christian nation, but a nation where the federal government did not take sides. Let us worship or not worship a creator as we please, not as ordered by the government. Uphold the Constitution.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pam Pouchot
Yorktown, VA

From: John Crotty <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:13:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Crotty
Manchester, MO

From: Beth Morey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:14:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Morey
BELLE FOURCHE, SD

From: Judy Merrill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:14:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a senior citizen, I appreciate this opportunity to submit my comment expressing my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judy Merrill
Oakland, CA

From: "E.S. SCHLOSS" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:16:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
E.S. SCHLOSS
NEW YORK, NY, NY

From: Barbara Roaslik <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:17:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Roaslik
Rochester Hills, MI

From: William Warren <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:18:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Warren
Germantown, TN

From: Regina Guarneri <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:19:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. I am an active member of the Unitarian Universalist religion, which is a Christian based religion. But, I DO NOT see my religion reflected in these recommendations. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Regina Guarneri
Sacramento, CA

From: Lynn Pooley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:20:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lynn Pooley
Lakewood, OH

From: leon Virden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:21:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
leon Virden
Minneapolis, MN

From: Heidi Kroll <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:21:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Keep our churches and state separate. Don't tell me how to worship.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Heidi Kroll
St Cloud, MN

From: Rosemary Conoley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:22:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosemary Conoley
Richardson, TX

From: Maria Guzman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:22:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maria Guzman
Bakersfield, CA

From: Kathryn Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:23:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathryn Williams
Fort Myers, FL

From: Steven Urquhart <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:23:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Steven Urquhart
Roanoke, VA

From: Duane Niatum <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:23:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Duane Niatum
Seattle, WA

From: Sandra Schomberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:23:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandra Schomberg
Corvallis, OR

From: Linda Martin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:23:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Martin
Jacksonville, FL

From: Jan Villott <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:24:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jan Villott
Pleasanton, CA

From: Mary Walls <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:24:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Walls
Deming, NM

From: Karen Nelson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:24:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Nelson
Maple Valley, WA

From: Peter Patterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:25:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Patterson
Sudbury, VT

From: Charlene Henley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:25:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charlene Henley
San Jose, CA

From: Rebekah King <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:26:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebekah King
Frederick, MD

From: Dorothy Shelley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:27:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Our country and Constitution was founded on the principle that people came to America to escape religious persecution and were allowed religious freedom here in America. People should be able to worship as they please and not be forced into narrow belief systems by those who belief everyone should hold the same beliefs that they themselves hold. We must respect the separation of state and church and allow people to worship as they choose.

Respectfully,
Dorothy Shelley
Austin, TX

From: Doug Helliesen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:27:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doug Helliesen
Key West, FL

From: laurie winnette <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:27:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
laurie winnette
Austin, TX

From: JENNIE COHEN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:27:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
JENNIE COHEN
Pasadena, CA

From: Bonnie Brunkhorst <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:28:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bonnie Brunkhorst
Riverside, CA

From: John Sonin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:28:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a SPINELESS select few.

Respectfully,
John Sonin
Douglas, AK

From: Paige Ziehler-Martin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:29:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paige Ziehler-Martin
Monrovia, CA

From: Pamela Sullivan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:30:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pamela Sullivan
Hooksett, NH

From: Jenina Quinn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:30:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE. The United Staes is a melting pot of religious and spiritual beliefs.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jenina Quinn
Edmonds, WA

From: Kevin Grimes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:31:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Grimes
Williston Park, NY

From: Leland DeGolier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:31:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leland DeGolier
Myrtle Creek, OR

From: Sharon I Gouwens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:32:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am writing as an ordained minister in a mainline Protestant denomination. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon I Gouwens
Thetford Center, VT

From: Paul Mokhiber <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:32:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Mokhiber
Niagara Falls, NY, NY

From: BJ Moore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:32:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and the freedom to choose one's particular religion (or to not have one), I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty; however, it does the opposite. This report selects as winner one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Yet, this theocracy-embracing report achieves that very unconstitutional purpose.

My beliefs calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity, regardless of their specific religious beliefs. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself by this attempt to encourage US government favoritism of radical religion. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few religions.

Respectfully,
BJ Moore
Plymouth, MA

From: Steve Groze <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:33:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Steve Groze
Youngsville, LA

From: Dot Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:33:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.ALL PEOPLE OF ALL RELIGIONS ARE EQUALLY VALUABLE. I HAVE MUSLIM FRIENDS, JEWISH FRIENDS, BA'HAI FRIENDS, BUDIST FRIENDS AND MANY FRIENDS OF MANY CHRISTIAN DENOMINATIONS. ALL ARE WELCOME AND ALL ARE VALUABLE.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where EVERYONE IS TREATED WITH EQUAL DIGNITY - WHETHER THE HOLD A STANDARD BELIEF SYSTEM OR NONE AT ALL. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dot Williams
Colorado Springs, CO

From: Todd Wussow <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:33:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Todd Wussow
De Pere, WI

From: Michelle Fairow <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:34:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michelle Fairow
Freeland, WA

From: Nancy Hatch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:34:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Religious freedom means that everyone has the choice to practice whatever religion they choose. This report says that everyone has to believe in Christianity. Our country was started by people who left their homelands because they did not have the freedom to worship as they chose.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Hatch
CORTLAND, NY

From: Aaron Tyrrell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:34:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Aaron Tyrrell
Knoxville, TN

From: Jim Neal <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:35:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jim Neal
Nacogdoches, TX

From: Sandra Foley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:35:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandra Foley
Manchester, TN

From: Sharon Balzano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:35:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon Balzano
Wheat Ridge, CO

From: LARRY OTTEMAN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:35:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, has recently released a well thought social statement title: Faith and Civic Life: Seeking the Well-being of All. My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
LARRY OTTEMAN
Ames, IA

From: Melissa Dodson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:37:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melissa Dodson
Oxford, CT

From: Keith Phelps <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:37:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Keith Phelps
Indianapolis, IN

From: Donna Gensler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:38:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Gensler
Pittsburgh, PA

From: Toby Willis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:38:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Toby Willis

[redacted]

From: Landa Bowen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:39:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Landa Bowen
Country Club Hills, IL

From: Yolanda Sutton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:39:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yolanda Sutton
Westland, MI

From: Marc Silverman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:40:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marc Silverman
Los Angeles, CA

From: Cliff Atendido <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:40:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cliff Atendido
Burlingame, CA

From: Debra Atlas <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:40:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I believe that it's vital to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors and of this country. We must create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I strongly urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, NOT a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Debra Atlas
Weslaco, TX

From: Darlene Deloff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:40:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Darlene Deloff
Beaverton, OR

From: Alan Krantz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:41:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Respectfully,
Alan Krantz
West Hills, CA

From: Mark Smith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:41:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Smith
Oconto Falls, WI

From: Brock Cordeiro <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:42:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brock Cordeiro
Dartmouth, MA

From: Ernest Hammer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:42:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ernest Hammer
White Plains, NY

From: Jennifer Anthony <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:42:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. No Christian nationalism. It's anti-Christian!

Respectfully,
Jennifer Anthony
Portland, OR

From: Yolanda McGinn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:43:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yolanda McGinn
Albuquerque, NM

From: Jennifer Alonso <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:44:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jennifer Alonso
San Diego, CA

From: Arthur Riedel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:44:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Arthur Riedel
Palm Bay, FL

From: Patricia sorn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:45:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patricia sorn
Stow, MA

From: Joanne Barber <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:46:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joanne Barber
Winter Haven, FL

From: Richard Brown <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:48:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Brown
Blue Springs, MO

From: Sally Phelps <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:48:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sally Phelps
Tucson, AZ

From: Roberta Davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:48:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Your disrespect for the citizens of this country is on full display in your misnamed Commission. Forcing your religion down the throats of others is a violation of any religion and shows your lack of understanding of the fundamental teachings of any of them. Stop disgracing God. Stop violating the constitution. Stop being bullies. Micah 6:8

Respectfully,
Roberta Davis
Henrietta, NY

From: Elizabeth Hegeman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:49:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Hegeman
Berlin, MA

From: Alice Ciuffo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:49:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Ciuffo
Whiting, NJ

From: phil mello <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:50:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to burn this farce of a report and start over with the facts.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it promotes one narrow and extreme viewpoint that disregards the rights and safety of anyone who doesn't share that view. True religious freedom does not mean the right to impose your religious beliefs on everyone else. It is Orwellian newspeak to call such tyranny "freedom" and patently unconstitutional.

My belief system demands that I protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors from this theocratic oppression. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious freedom, not conformity to a dangerous ideology that has been openly used to promote violence against anyone who disagrees.

Respectfully,
phil mello
Chandler, AZ

From: Noel Crim <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:50:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Noel Crim
Sun City West, AZ

From: John Schmittauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:51:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am expressing my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Schmittauer
Millfield, OH

From: Michelle Darbro <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:51:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michelle Darbro
Fort Lauderdale, FL

From: Christopher Papa <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:51:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christopher Papa
San Carlos, CA

From: Clarice McKenney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:52:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a lifelong Christian, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who also believes in the dignity of every person, I am opposed to the recommendations in this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom is the respect at all levels of government for individual beliefs supporting each person's faith. The recommendations in this report promote one belief system only. That system is trying to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well being of my neighbors. It calls me to support a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

This report should reflect the true American value of genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Clarice McKenney
Bonners Ferry, ID

From: Betty Duson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:52:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. MY FAMILY HAS BENEFITTED GREATLY FROM LIVING IN THIS COUNTRY WHERE FREEDOM OF RELIGION IS SUPPORTED AND ENFORCED. ONE SPOUSE IS THE CHILD OF A RABBI REVERED CITYWIDE WHILE THE OTHER SPOUSES 'PARENTS WERE CHARTER MEMBERS OF A PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. OUR SON RECEIVED AN EXCELLENT EDUCATION AT AN OUTSTANDING JESUIT COLLEGE PREP HIGH SCHOOL. OUR FAMILY CELEBRATES THE HOLIDAYS OF ALL THREE FAITHS AND WE TRY TO LIVE BY THE HIGHEST VALUES OF EACH RELIGION. I CANNOT IMAGINE LOSING THE RICHNESS THAT THIS DIVERSITY HAS BROUGHT TO OUR FAMILY AND WILL WORK TO PROTECT THIS SAME RIGHT FOR ALL AMERICANS.

Respectfully,
Betty Duson
Houston, TX

From: Crystal Pierce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:52:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Crystal Pierce
Springfield, MO

From: Neil Fisher <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:53:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Freedom of religion includes freedom from religion. The U.S. government MUST be completely neutral on religion.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Neil Fisher
Sand Springs, OK

From: Joyce Simonds <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:54:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joyce Simonds
Temecula, CA

From: John Karlin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:55:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. It is especially important to realize that Jesus Christ the name sake of Christianity, specifically emphasized that religion is about the individuals relationship (through him) with the father. Not any relationship involving any group. To elevate any religion or group above the relationship of the individual to the father is Anti-Christ. The very history of religion itself is a history of successive new ways to interpret the Bible. Only the individual can have a valid interpretation of the Bible for him/her in their relationship with the father. That is religious freedom and liberty nothing else is. To focus on any group or religion over the individual is a violation of this, it is sacrilegious.

Respectfully,
John Karlin
Oklahoma City, OK

From: Sean Long <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:55:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sean Long
Mount Prospect, IL

From: dorothy kethler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:56:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
dorothy kethler
Ranchos De Taos, NM

From: Alice Floberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:57:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Floberg
Belvidere, IL

From: AJ cho <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:57:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
AJ cho
San Leandro, CA

From: Margaret Halladin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:58:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Halladin
San Rafael, CA

From: PEGGY YORK <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:58:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
PEGGY YORK
portland, ME

From: Tracy Griffin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:59:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

All the above reasons is why I'm sending this today.  I feel very strongly about keeping Church and State separated as it always should be.

Sincerely,
Ms. Tracy Griffin
[redacted]

From: "J.B. Sacks" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:59:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
J.B. Sacks
Palm Desert, CA

From: "Rev. Louisa Dyer" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 19:59:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Louisa Dyer
weaverville, NC

From: Donna Rutledge <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:00:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the rights and dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Rutledge
MEDFORD, OR

From: Linda Dorsey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:00:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Dorsey
West Des Moines, IA

From: Katherine Skaar-Garner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:00:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Katherine Skaar-Garner
Albert Lea, MN

From: Darby Tarr <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:00:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

THE RELIGIOUS LIBERTY COMMISSION DEFINES SPECIFIC RELIGIOUS BELIEFS AS THE ONLY ACCEPTABLE CHOICE. IT FLIES IN THE FACE OF THE FOUNDING FATHERS. IT SUBVERTS THE CONSTITUTION. IT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE!

STAY OUT OF MY RELIGIOUS CHOICES.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Darby Tarr
Harrisville, NY

From: Scott Kennedy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:01:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Scott Kennedy
Keizer, OR

From: CHRIS PHELPS <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:01:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
CHRIS PHELPS
ENGLEWOOD, FL

From: Jacquie Astemborski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:01:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jacquie Astemborski
Westminster, MD

From: Mary Hankins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:02:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. This country was founded by many people who fled religious persecution. This report describes the same persecution those people dled from. We are better than this.

Respectfully,
Mary Hankins
Newtown Square, PA

From: Louise Whitehead <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:02:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Louise Whitehead
Salem, OR

From: Mara Obelcz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:03:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mara Obelcz
Hatfield, PA

From: Bradley Leger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:03:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bradley Leger
MARRERO, LA

From: Nikki Blaha <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:04:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nikki Blaha
Naples, FL

From: Shaeril McBrown <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:05:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Shaeril McBrown
Bronx, NY

From: Claudia Bubeck <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:05:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Claudia Bubeck
Lafayette, CA

From: Bishop Dr Michael D Turner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:07:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Religious liberty means the God-given freedom for every person to worship according to the convictions of their conscience without fear of coercion, discrimination, or persecution. It is the right to live out one's faith openly—in our homes, churches, workplaces, and communities—while respecting the same freedom for others whose beliefs may differ. Religious liberty is not about privilege; it is about protecting the dignity of every human being and preserving the freedom to seek, know, and serve God according to one's sincere convictions. As a Christian, I believe faith must be chosen freely, never forced, and that a society that protects religious liberty strengthens justice, peace, and mutual respect for all.

Respectfully,
Bishop Dr Michael D Turner
Lubbock, TX

From: Robert Rowe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:07:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Rowe
Los Angeles, CA

From: Mark Salamon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:07:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Salamon
San Mateo, CA

From: Hilary Lake <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:08:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Hilary Lake
Petoskey, MI

From: Ana Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:09:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ana Johnson
Longmont, CO

From: Norman Sandel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:09:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Norman Sandel
Beacon Falls, CT

From: Margaret Russell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:10:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret Russell
Saginaw, TX

From: Nate Sanford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:11:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Nature needs us now,every second counts! The time to act is now! Eco-Mobilize!™

Respectfully,
Nate Sanford
Moraine, OH

From: Kathalin Walker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:12:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathalin Walker
Page, AZ

From: Catherine Henney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:12:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Catherine Henney
Indianapolis, IN

From: Joan Budd <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:12:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of ALL of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Our nation CANNOT privilege some religions & some people over others: this injustice would completely undermine American ideals.

Respectfully,
Joan Budd
Pleasantville, NY

From: David Daube <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:15:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Daube
Massillon, OH

From: Cindy Matthews <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:16:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cindy Matthews
Springfield, MA

From: James Hudson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:16:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Hudson
Muscle Shoals, AL

From: Frank Hahn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:16:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frank Hahn
Boonville, IN

From: Rosemary E Gaskell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:17:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosemary E Gaskell
Winchendon, MA

From: Brian Brown <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:17:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Brown
Lewisburg, PA

From: Karen Roland <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:20:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Roland
Greensburg, KY

From: Lois Rifner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:21:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

As someone who believes ALL people should have freedom to worship according to their own beliefs, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lois Rifner
Saint Louis, MO

From: Rose Flowers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:22:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I believe in the Constitution. I believe in the Bill of Rights. I believe in the separation of church and state and the freedom of and from religion. An individual has a right to worship as they please, but no one can force a religion on another. Our founders did not set up a "Christian Nation" but instead remember the religious persecution in England and were adamant that our new nation would not be governed or influenced by religion.
As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, the Commission must substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. It must follow the Constitution.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rose Flowers
Georgetown, IN

From: Shelly Peterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:22:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Shelly Peterson
Anacortes, WA

From: Laughing Womyn Ashonosheni <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:22:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. Religious freedom means that the values of all religions practiced in our country are treated as equal under our laws and no laws can be made that favor the people of one religion over those of other religions, or those who don't hold any religious beliefs.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms, dignity and wellbeing of my neighbors. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laughing Womyn Ashonosheni
Benton Harbor, MI

From: Terri Betz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:22:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terri Betz
Sutherlin, OR

From: Michelle Fox <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:23:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michelle Fox
Downey, CA

From: Pamela Bump <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:24:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. The separation of church and state is a vital part of our democracy.

Respectfully,
Pamela Bump
PII

From: William Watts <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:24:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Watts
Athens, GA

From: Carole Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:25:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carole Williams
Morgantown, WV

From: Kate Butt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:25:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kate Butt
Redmond, WA

From: Susan Rotatori <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:27:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Rotatori
Shaker Heights, OH

From: Doris Chorny <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:27:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Separation of Church and State was uppermost on the minds of our founding fathers. Freedom means the freedom to choose the spiritual path one wants to follow.
I am submitting this comment to express my strong opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. This is NOT freedom of choice. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doris Chorny
New Paltz, NY

From: Ronald Killingsworth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:28:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ronald Killingsworth
Leslie, MI

From: Emily Everhart <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:28:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emily Everhart
Lexington, NC

From: Britney Andrews <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:29:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Britney Andrews
Columbus, OH

From: C Curtis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:29:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
C Curtis
Garland, TX

From: Don-Jan Thompson-Oen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:30:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Our constitution requires freedom of religion for all, and I strongly support that idea. Your proposals tramp on the freedom of religion and need to be dropped.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Don-Jan Thompson-Oen
Alamosa, CO

From: Mark Waltzer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:31:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my strong opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a religious person who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Waltzer
Marlton, NJ

From: Jonah Nelson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:31:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jonah Nelson
Salt Lake City, UT

From: John Schmittauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:31:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am expressing my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Schmittauer
Millfield, OH

From: Kevin Macdonald <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:33:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Macdonald
Belgrade Lakes, ME

From: Andrea Schauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:35:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my EXTREME opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. This report currently is DISCRIMINATORY, UNCONSTITUTIONAL + ILLEGAL! WHO in their right mind thinks up this HORRIFIC + HORRIBLE stuff? Don't you know the law, the Constitution, the separation of church + state??

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it CLEARLY does the OPPOSITE! Which is actually DISGUSTING + APPALLING! This report elevates one VERY NARROW set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. No one wants a religious zealot to tell them how to practice religion or force them to practice a religion that goes against their own faith + beliefs! True religious freedom does not mean using ONLY ONE belief system to supersede + CANCEL the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. There are THOUSANDS of religions!! ALL religions should be RESPECTED + RECOGNIZED EQUALLY. No American wants a religion FORCED on them. That is AGAINST the CONSTITUTION! Remember SEPARATION of CHURCH + STATE?!

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors, including the FREEDOM to practice their OWN RELIGION or no religion. Not be FORCED by some religious zealot to practice one religion. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal DIGNITY + RESPECT regardless of their sex, race, education or religion. I demand the Commission ABSOLUTELY REJECT ANY recommendations that would enable SEVERE + DISGUSTING discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious PLURALISM, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. It is UNCONSTITUTIONAL!!

Respectfully,
Andrea Schauer
Aurora, CO

From: Diane Pierce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:36:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a person of faith, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Pierce
Ames, IA

From: Kevin Banach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:36:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Banach
Old Saybrook, CT

From: Joanne Sweeney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:37:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I believe in the separation of church and state, and the dignity of all people.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joanne Sweeney
Sautee Nacoochee, GA

From: Cindy Buxton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:40:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cindy Buxton
North Kingstown, RI

From: Kevin Milam <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:41:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Milam
Seattle, WA

From: Rebecca Merrill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:41:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebecca Merrill
Auburn, AL

From: Beth Darlington <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:41:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Darlington
Poughkeepsie, NY

From: Katherine Davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:42:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Katherine Davis
Fort Collins, CO

From: Thomas Haley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:42:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Thomas Haley
Brooklyn, NY

From: Felicity Hohenshelt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:42:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Felicity Hohenshelt
Jacksonville, FL

From: Debra Garries <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:44:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respect the Constitution!

Respectfully,
Debra Garries
Missouri City, TX

From: Sue Nuccio <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:44:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue Nuccio
Syracuse, NY

From: Linda Pawloski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:44:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Pawloski
Peoria, AZ

From: Kirk Sarell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:45:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I appeal to the members of this Commission to act with integrity and good conscience in substantially revising, if not altogether abandoning, the issuance of this report's recommendations. They are antithetical to American values.

The First Amendment clearly sets a foundation for the citizens of this country to be able to freely practice the religion of their choice -- or be free from the coercion of any religion not of their choice. Any honest and moral appraisal of this report would identify it as advocating a version of "Christianity" taking precedence over other religious beliefs or non-beliefs.

I place "Christianity" above in quotation marks as the sincere, practicing Christians I know, who take guidance from Biblical teachings rather than from the dictates of a political movement, is opposed to this sort move to authoritarianism, of fear-mongering for the purpose of discriminatory action. They do not recognize Christianity in these policies; rather, what they recognize is the citing of "religion" as a means to accumulate power over others --- a subjugation that may well in the future turn on the "religious" who initially support these measures. What the recommendations in this report promote is the only true attack on Christianity (no quotes) experienced in this country.

Respectfully,
Kirk Sarell
Northglenn, CO

From: "Rev. Dr. Sharon Harris-Ewing" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:45:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a Christian minister, an educator, and a strong advocate for religious liberty and the separation of church and state. I grew up in the Baptist faith and learned early on about how Baptists were among the very first defenders of religious freedom in this new nation. I believe the separation of church and state is one of America's greatest contributions to the world.

I am writing now to express my strong opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but in fact does the opposite. It elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints (indeed it's only one narrow Christian perspective) above all others -- while disregarding the rights and safety of people who do not share that view.

True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

As a Christian, I am called to love my neighbor. That means protecting the freedoms and well-being of ALL my neighbors. It means creating a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect and support genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Dr. Sharon Harris-Ewing
Naples, FL

From: Rachel Lind <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:46:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rachel Lind
Mendota Heights, MN

From: DAWN HYDE <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:47:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
DAWN HYDE
Flint, MI

From: Melanie Howie <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:47:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melanie Howie
Byron, GA

From: Karen Pack <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:47:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Pack
Lenexa, KS

From: Rosalind Carter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:48:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My Christian belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosalind Carter
Washington, DC

From: Janet Wolfe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:49:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janet Wolfe
Marshfield, WI

From: Carolyn Fay <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:50:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Fay
Safety Harbor, FL

From: William Hughes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:50:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Hughes
Terre Haute, IN

From: Carol Reichert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:50:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Reichert
Fremont, CA

From: barb davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:51:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

separation of Church and State is very clear in the Constitution. Please keep it that way. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
barb davis
Williams, CA

From: Robert Janusko <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:52:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Janusko
Bethlehem, PA

From: richard byers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:52:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
richard byers
San Francisco, CA

From: John Shirley Valney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:53:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Shirley Valney
Reno, NV

From: David Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:54:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I submit this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission and to urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before issuing a final report.

As a Christian and a retired United Methodist minister, I believe religious liberty is one of our nation's greatest strengths precisely because it belongs equally to every person. The free exercise of religion depends upon the government protecting the freedom of people of every faith tradition—and of those who claim no religious faith at all. Religious liberty is diminished whenever the state privileges one religious perspective over others.

The draft report does not adequately reflect that principle. It repeatedly elevates one narrow understanding of religion while giving insufficient attention to the rights, dignity, and freedoms of those who believe differently. Religious liberty should never become a justification for denying others equal treatment in housing, employment, education, healthcare, or other areas of public life.

My Christian faith teaches me to love my neighbor and to seek justice. Those convictions lead me to defend not only my own religious freedom but the religious freedom and equal dignity of all people. A government that protects only those who believe as I do is not protecting religious liberty; it is privileging religion.

Our nation is religiously diverse, and that diversity is not a threat to our constitutional order but one of its enduring strengths. I urge the Commission to revise this report so that it reflects the First Amendment's promise of genuine religious liberty for everyone rather than advancing a narrow religious and political perspective at the expense of our shared freedoms.

Respectfully,
David Miller
Barbourville, KY

From: Harold Watson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:54:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Harold Watson
Springfield, MO

From: Geronimo Mato <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:55:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Geronimo Mato
Santa Fe, NM

From: Loretta Rafter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:55:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Loretta Rafter
Villa Maria, PA

From: BRION FEINBERG <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:55:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
BRION FEINBERG
Morganville, NJ

From: joe Frascone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:56:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
joe Frascone
Dallas, OR

From: Tina Bailey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:56:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tina Bailey
Fort Myers, FL

From: Sheila Dixon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:57:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sheila Dixon
Concord, CA

From: Laura Reilly <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:59:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of all my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laura Reilly
Chino Valley, AZ

From: Richard Stobbs <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 20:59:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Stobbs
Spring Hill, FL

From: Sandra Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:00:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well being of my neighbors and friends of many religions. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandra Miller
Greenbelt, MD

From: R Mesavage <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:00:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
R Mesavage
Winter Park, FL

From: Arisa Johnsey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:00:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others. The Buddhist temple I go to was the only way the Thai community was able to connect with other Thai people in the US for decades. This separation of church and state has allowed me to connect with my heritage through things like Thai dance classes and being able to practice rituals and ceremonies when I've had family members pass away.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate. I believe everyone should be treated fairly and that shouldn't be impacted due to their beliefs around religion. I believe every religion is equally good and teaches people to be good people. Many will often give back to the community and help the most vulnerable.

Sincerely,
Arisa Johnsey

[redacted]

From: Ronni Haston <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:04:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ronni Haston
Branson, MO

From: Paul Montell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:04:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Paul Montell
Baden, PA

From: Warren Clark <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:04:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Warren Clark
Mammoth Lakes, CA

From: Amanda Ingalls <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:04:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amanda Ingalls
Pascoag, RI

From: Dena Jensen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:05:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

I have a strong conviction that the separation of church and state is essential to our nation's continued ability to promote the general welfare and remain a beacon of democracy. I am a baptized community member here in Washington state. Additionally, I strongly value the teachings and services of a wide variety of religions and secular community organizations. Their contributions, most often, support the well-being of individuals as well as that of our entire region. I support the following message.

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. Dena Jensen

[redacted]

From: CATHY CARLETON <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:05:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
CATHY CARLETON
Lake Luzerne, NY

From: Barbara Jackson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:06:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Jackson
Denver, CO

From: elaine pagels <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:06:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission is completely counter to what the Founders valued--the dignity of every human being! If you are serious about what you profess, this needs to be completely revised.

You write as if this report protects religious liberty, but it does the opposite.

Why not tell the truth? For example, about what President George Washington wrote in his 1799 Letter to the Synagogue in Rhode Island--that the government he fought and was willing to die for was one that offered true freedom of religion--for people of any faith, or none at all. You can easily verify the truth--as anyone can--by checking the historical record.

Having taught the history of religion at Princeton University for fifty years, I am deeply saddened by the failure of your draft to simply TELL THE TRUTH.

Please consider that, I am a Christian, Episcopalian, white citizen--and none of that matters for belonging to this great country--meant to be the land of the free and the brave.

Are you free and brave? I sincerely hope so. So why not? The truth is much better than lies--and then we could respect the government you claim to represent.

Respectfully,

Elaine Pagels
Professor of History of Religion
Princeton University

Respectfully,
elaine pagels
Princeton, NJ

From: Malinda Mayer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:06:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Malinda Mayer
Providence, SC

From: Gloria Perez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:06:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gloria Perez
Rockton, IL

From: Christa Gaidos <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:07:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christa Gaidos
Sacramento, CA

From: Sall-Ann Sauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:07:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I was raised in the Christian church, have many bars in my attendance pin to prove it.
But I believe the principle of the constitution guarantees Freedom of  AND FROM religious. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sall-Ann Sauer
Fort Worth, TX

From: Karen Sutton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:07:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Sutton
RIPON, CA

From: Ginny Segaloff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:08:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ginny Segaloff
Naples, FL

From: Barbara Hoch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:09:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Hoch
Dedham, MA

From: "B. Tepp" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:10:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
B. Tepp
Beverly Hills, CA

From: Dianne Glassford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:11:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dianne Glassford
Las Vegas, NV

From: chris fortin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:12:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
chris fortin
Sebastopol, CA

From: Cornelia Teed <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:12:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cornelia Teed
Bellingham, WA

From: sandra levy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:12:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
sandra levy
pikesville, MD

From: Nora Rhan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:13:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nora Rhan
Evansville, IN

From: Stephen Slivinsky <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:14:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephen Slivinsky
Brewster, NY

From: Stephen Mudrick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:15:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephen Mudrick
Columbia, MO

From: Stephen Dutschke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:15:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephen Dutschke
Louisville, KY

From: "Rev. Tiina Nummela" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:16:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Tiina Nummela
Somerset, NJ

From: Mary Shields <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:18:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Shields
Columbus, OH

From: Katherine Cozzens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:18:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Katherine Cozzens
Memphis, TN

From: Christine Anderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:18:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.
If religiious freedoms are taken away from one group they can be taken away from all groups. Religious freedom is a cornerstone of America. The draft report is using politics to reverse that freedom.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christine Anderson
Castro Valley, CA

From: Kristen Bolomey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:19:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kristen Bolomey
Fort Myers, FL

From: Scott Korman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:20:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Scott Korman
Floral Park, NY

From: Brian Gingras <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:21:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Gingras
Braintree, MA

From: Mark Bischoff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:21:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mark Bischoff
[redacted]

From: KIMCAROLYN OLDS <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:22:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
KIMCAROLYN OLDS
Fort Washington, MD

From: William Stone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:22:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Stone
Austin, TX

From: Doris Dick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:25:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doris Dick
Pittsburgh, PA

From: jan weber <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:27:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
jan weber
Saint Paul, MN

From: Rick MacInnes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:28:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I oppose the Religious Liberty Commission's draft report.

Religious freedom means protecting the rights of people of every faith and of no faith. Our government must uphold both the free exercise of religion and the constitutional separation of church and state to ensure liberty, equality, and justice for all.

Rather than strengthening religious liberty, this report elevates one narrow religious perspective while weakening the civil rights and protections of others. No one belief system should override equal access to housing, healthcare, education, or employment.

My faith calls me to respect the dignity and freedom of every person. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that enable discrimination and instead produce a report that reflects genuine religious pluralism and equal protection for all Americans.

Respectfully,
Rick MacInnes
Omaha, NE

From: Julie Kaye <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:30:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Julie Kaye
Emmaus, PA

From: Ellen Hugunin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:30:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I have been a Christian all my life and have never had anyone disrespect me for it. I have however had problems with the type of Christians you claim need protecting. I've been told that I don't hold the right beliefs. I have been a United Methodist pastor, and currently do pulpit supply for the Presbyterian Church USA. I have a Masters of divinity degree. I also urge you to keep separation of church and state. Our founding fathers wanted everyone in the US to be able to worship as they pleased or not. I have a BA in political science and have studied this very issue. I also respect every individual, God created all of us and we are to all be respected and treated as children of God, no matter how we worship or not and who we love.

Respectfully,
Ellen Hugunin
Findlay, OH

From: Nancy Olinger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:30:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Olinger
Chanhassen, MN

From: Gordon Sanford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:31:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gordon Sanford
Monticello, MN

From: Yael Fischman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:31:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a member of the Jewish faith, and as someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well being of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yael Fischman
Hyattsville, MD

From: Cindi Dean <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:32:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cindi Dean
Southbury, CT

From: Robert Luebeck <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:35:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Luebeck
franklin lakes, NJ

From: chris christian <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:35:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
chris christian
chesapeake, VA

From: Janet Totten <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:35:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janet Totten
Santee, CA

From: Judy Kukuruza <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:38:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judy Kukuruza
Bakersfield, CA

From: Steve Adkins <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:38:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Steve Adkins
Aurora, IL

From: Catena Galipo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:41:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Catena Galipo
Cleveland, OH

From: Jill Shachter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:41:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Freedom of Religion is a pillar on which this country was founded. This principle DEMANDS separation of all religions from state.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jill Shachter
Vernon Hills, IL

From: Barbara Isely <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:41:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I strongly oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Isely
Denton, TX

From: Doug Frugé <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:44:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doug Frugé
Whitingham, VT

From: Katherine Cooke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:44:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Katherine Cooke
Owensboro, KY

From: "Rev. Max Burg" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:45:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Max Burg
Chicago, IL

From: Leo Kucewicz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:46:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leo Kucewicz
Bryn Mawr, PA

From: Karralena Castaway <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:47:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karralena Castaway
Caribou, ME

From: Lobsang Dhondup <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:47:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lobsang Dhondup
Saint Paul, MN

From: Sheilagh Bergeron <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:48:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sheilagh Bergeron
Northfield, NH

From: roy Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:49:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
roy Johnson
Melbourne, FL

From: dAnne MacNeil <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:50:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
dAnne MacNeil
MESA, AZ

From: Kathy J <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:50:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy J
Denver, CO

From: Beverly Gavenda <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:51:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beverly Gavenda
Austin, TX

From: Kathleen Oates <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:52:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Oates
Durham, NC

From: Richard Nordin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:52:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Nordin
Des Moines, IA

From: Sandy Sage <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:53:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandy Sage
Wapanucka, OK

From: Yvette Whorton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:57:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yvette Whorton
Chicago, IL

From: Elizabeth Kopper <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:57:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am writing to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

As a Catholics in Oklahoma in the 1950s, my family understood that religious freedom can be ignored by the majority, both in matters of faith and in the public sphere. Until recent years in Oklahoma, the Jewish and Catholic religions, but mostly Jewish, experienced discrimination by the Protestant majority. In those years, people had to list their religion on job applications. Preference was given to Protestants. Jews weren't allowed to join the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club.

But, the more important challenges are found in laws that are based on the beliefs of one religion. For example, my son is gay and is married to his partner. Some religions believe that this is a sin and that same sex marriages should be overturned. They also believe that life begins at conception, or even before, and oppose abortion and contraception. For 50 plus years, I have rejected these narrow beliefs, and I support abortion, same sex marriage, and rights for the LGBTQ community. Giving power to one religion to dictate the actions of another is not religious freedom but religious domination.

The current report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. It elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Kopper
South Windsor, CT

From: Kay Sundstrom <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:58:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kay Sundstrom
Eureka, CA

From: Korie Shokmalli <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 21:59:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Korie Shokmalli
Getzville, NY

From: Carol Auer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:00:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Read our founders! They very intentionally wanted our government to stay out of religion, so we could all worship as we pleased!! Religion stays stronger when not part of the state apparatus.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Auer
New Paltz, NY

From: Joseph Pasternack <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:00:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joseph Pasternack
Sturgis, MI

From: Robert Renfro <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:03:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

We are not a Theocracy (yet!) and must NEVER be one. The founders were clear that the state should neither endorse or prohibit religion.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Renfro
Denver, CO

From: Connie Hupperts <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:03:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Connie Hupperts
Peoriaeoria, AZ

From: Gina Willis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:03:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gina Willis
Norfolk, VA

From: Mary Downing <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:03:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Downing
Des Moines, IA

From: Romona Czichos-Slaughter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:04:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Romona Czichos-Slaughter
Hollister, CA

From: Mary D Jackson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:04:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary D Jackson
Smithfield, NC

From: Diane Schwarz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:05:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Schwarz
Cheverly, MD

From: Charlene Downes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:05:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charlene Downes
Kirkland, WA

From: Russell Weisz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:05:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Russell Weisz
Santa Cruz, CA

From: Betty Imm <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:06:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Betty Imm
Lower Burrell, PA

From: Dr Patricia Williams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:06:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dr Patricia Williams
Asheville, NC

From: Laurel Kornfeld <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:07:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laurel Kornfeld
Highland Park, NJ

From: EARNEST WILEY <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:09:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
EARNEST WILEY
Hermitage, TN

From: Emmah Doucette <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:11:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emmah Doucette
Fryeburg, ME

From: Anne Pruitt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:16:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Anne Pruitt
Batavia, IL

From: Maureen Mooney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:18:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maureen Mooney
Chicago, IL

From: Nancy Barta-Norton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:21:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Religious liberty and separation of church and state are foundational to our nation and must be preserved. The dignity of all is critical to our democratic society.

Sincerely,
Nancy Barta-Norton

Respectfully,
Nancy Barta-Norton
Cranston, RI

From: April Lasiter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:24:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
April Lasiter
Fort Smith, AR

From: Jaszmene Smith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:25:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jaszmene Smith
Bridgeton, NJ

From: Catherine Foley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:26:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Catherine Foley
Stony Brook, NY

From: Charlene Underwood <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:27:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.
Religious freedom is one of America's foundational principles. It protects every person's right to practice their faith—or no faith at all—without government interference or religious favoritism. That principle depends on maintaining the constitutional separation of church and state, which protects both religious institutions from government control and our government from being dominated by any one religion.
I also believe churches and other houses of worship should remain focused on their core missions of faith, service, and community—not partisan politics. The Johnson Amendment has long helped preserve that distinction by maintaining the tax-exempt status of nonprofit religious organizations while limiting political campaign activity.
I am concerned that this draft report would weaken these longstanding protections by elevating one narrow set of religious viewpoints while diminishing the rights of others. Religious liberty should never be used to justify reducing civil rights protections, limiting access to healthcare, or allowing discrimination in housing, education, employment, or other areas of public life.
My faith calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors and to help build a society where every person is treated with equal dignity and respect. True religiou I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Religious freedom is one of America's foundational principles. It protects every person's right to practice their faith—or no faith at all—without government interference or religious favoritism.

That's why I oppose recommendations that would weaken the separation of church and state. The Constitution protects both religious institutions from government control and our government from being dominated by any one religion.

I also believe churches and other houses of worship should remain focused on their core missions of faith, service, and community—not partisan politics. The Johnson Amendment has long helped preserve that distinction by maintaining the tax-exempt status of nonprofit religious organizations while limiting political campaign activity.

No one should have their civil rights, access to healthcare, or equal treatment under the law diminished because someone else's religious beliefs are given preference by the government.

Religious liberty belongs to all of us—not just those who share one particular faith or worldview. Defending that principle means defending the constitutional separation of church and state and ensuring that every American can worship freely, or choose not to, without fear of government favoritism.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven view that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charlene Underwood
West Chester, PA

From: Amy Engimann <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:28:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amy Engimann
Saint Charles, IL

From: Jason Fourier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:29:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Jason Fourier

[redacted]

From: Mary Peterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:29:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Peterson
Spartanburg, SC

From: Dale Shero <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:30:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dale Shero
Athens, GA

From: Pamela Olson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:31:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pamela Olson
Plain, WI

From: Lenora O'Neill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:32:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lenora O'Neill
Toledo, WA

From: Tyrone Lecour <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:33:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

This next personal statement is to simply add that the government established by the Founding Fathers all those many centuries and decades ago albeit, not yet a "perfect union" was a  Republic based on Democratic Constitutional principles and established our chosen governmental system of the people for the people and by the people. It is not an authoritarian or monarchy form of government and surely  arguably our established government is not a theocracy. As such we place no religion at the head of state and must never elevate one religious doctrine above another. As Chief Justice Roberts of the Supreme Court of the United States of America stated clearly very recently and I'll paraphrase; "we may be in different times but, it is still the same old Constitution!"

Respectfully,
Tyrone Lecour
Fayetteville, GA

From: Holly Bandel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:34:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My faith as a Christian and a pastor calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Holly Bandel
Dallas, TX

From: Billy Angus <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:38:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

---

Or as Patrick Henry summed it up....
"GIVE ME LIBERTY, OR GIVE ME DEATH!"

Respectfully,
Billy Angus
Hamilton, MT, MT

From: pf bauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:40:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
pf bauer
Staten Island, NY

From: Clairence Pickens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:40:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Clairence Pickens
Hartford, CT

From: John Schlosser <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:41:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Schlosser
Ardmore, PA

From: Thomas Theisen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:42:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Thomas Theisen
Sun City, AZ

From: Sara and Austin Henry <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:43:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

We are United Methodist and Roman Catholic. Our belief system calls us to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. We urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sara and Austin Henry
Bowie, MD

From: Jenelle Knight <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:44:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jenelle Knight
Centennial, CO

From: Elizabeth Ahrens <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:45:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Ahrens
West Branch, IA

From: Lawrence Bolfik <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:45:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lawrence Bolfik
Tempe, AZ

From: Marilyn Borrelli <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:47:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Borrelli
Indian Land, SC

From: Tyra Pellerin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:48:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tyra Pellerin
New Orleans, LA

From: Danny Cuff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:49:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Danny Cuff
Norwood, MA

From: Janice Burstin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:49:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Janice Burstin
Laguna Woods, CA

From: Adelaide Steely <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:52:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Adelaide Steely
Duncansville, PA

From: Wendy Willis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:52:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wendy Willis
Victor, NY

From: Larry Levin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:52:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Larry Levin
Chico, CA

From: Maryann Smale <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:53:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maryann Smale
Towanda, PA

From: Jack West <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:55:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jack West
Kissimmee, FL

From: Phoenix Giffen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:56:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Phoenix Giffen
Petaluma, CA

From: Jeremy Young <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:58:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jeremy Young
Glendale, NY

From: Patrick Ramsey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:58:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patrick Ramsey
Albuquerque, NM

From: Barbara Ginsberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:58:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Ginsberg
SANTA CRUZ, CA

From: Diane Stackhouse <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:58:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

If you know our American history, you know the Founding Fathers demanded separation of Church and State!!! To protect our Religious freedoms and our Democracy you must do your duty!! Honor your oath!!! I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diane Stackhouse
Peru, IN

From: Kim Leighton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:59:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kim Leighton
Hazelwood, MO

From: Kim Leighton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 22:59:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kim Leighton
Hazelwood, MO

From: wallace ransom <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:03:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
wallace ransom
Oakland, Calif, CA

From: Robert Craig <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:03:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Craig
LAKE BARRINGTON, IL

From: Shannon Allsop <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:08:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Shannon Allsop
Holladay, UT

From: Peggy Kramer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:10:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peggy Kramer
Gardena, CA

From: David Hollingsworth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:14:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Hollingsworth
Fayetteville, NC

From: Mha Atma S Khalsa <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:16:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a concerned American citizen and taxpayer, I very strongly oppose the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mha Atma S Khalsa
Los Angeles, CA

From: Kathleen Lindaas <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:16:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I implore you to Uphold our Constitutional right to worship or not. Keep Church and State SEPERATE.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Lindaas
Broomfield, CO

From: Alexandra Napoleon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:20:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alexandra Napoleon
Yardley, PA

From: Gail Fleischaker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:21:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gail Fleischaker
Shutesbury, MA

From: Victor Lidz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:23:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Victor Lidz
Chesterbrook, PA

From: Derek Benedict <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:23:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Derek Benedict
Lynnwood, WA

From: Nellie Medlin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:24:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nellie Medlin
Holly Springs, MS

From: Bonnie Winter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:25:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bonnie Winter
Shrewsbury, PA

From: Dana Trick <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:25:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dana Trick
Moorpark, CA

From: James Herther <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:25:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Herther
Saint Paul, MN

From: Ruth Boice <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:28:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ruth Boice
Shamong, NJ

From: Maggie Hughes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:29:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maggie Hughes
Berkely, CA

From: Matthew Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:33:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Matthew Miller
Bay Shore, NY

From: Janet Clemenson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:33:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Janet Clemenson

[redacted]

From: Chuck Itzkovitz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:35:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Chuck Itzkovitz
Atlanta, GA

From: James B Sitrick Jr <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:35:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my absolute opposition to the horrific draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its “recommendations” before finalizing this report.

This report purports to protect religious liberty, but it does precisely the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James B Sitrick Jr
Jefferson, ME

From: Rita Duran <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:35:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Also, America is not a Christian nation.  It is a nation of many different religions and none.  The constitution does not give you the right to force your religious beliefs on others.

Sincerely,
Rita Duran

[redacted]

From: Susan Balaban <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:35:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Balaban
Wilmette, IL

From: Mary Adams <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:36:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Adams
Salina, KS

From: Melanie Rogers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:38:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. What the heck are u doing to religious freedom? I am a heavy christiayin quiet prayer daily w observance to juddhism,Shinto,buddhism ways of life. I am Also native American whomobserves the Red way.

Respectfully,
Melanie Rogers
Las Vegas, NV

From: Cheryl Phillips <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:42:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cheryl Phillips
Raleigh, NC

From: Eric Nichandros <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:43:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eric Nichandros
Castro Valley, CA

From: Romona Czichos-Slaughter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:43:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Romona Czichos-Slaughter
[redacted]

From: Mary Ann Clark <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:43:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Ann Clark
Weatogue, CT

From: Roxanne Hills <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:44:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Roxanne Hills
Yachats, OR

From: Charles Roth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:49:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Charles Roth
Pasadena, CA

From: Susan Nierenberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:49:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Nierenberg
Teaneck, NJ

From: Doris Ashbrook <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:49:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Doris Ashbrook
Richmond, IN

From: Scott Shafrin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:49:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Scott Shafrin
Cincinnati, OH

From: Rodney Wood <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:50:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rodney Wood
Montgomery Village, MD

From: Monica Jamison <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:52:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Monica Jamison
Olin, IA

From: Ralph Walker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:54:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Every person's religion, regardless of affiliations and church teachings, is living out the truth that is at home in their heart. Regardless of any doctrines, each person is responsible to their own conscience. No person or government has the right to violate that truth.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ralph Walker
Ft. Collins, CO

From: Moss Cleary <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:56:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Moss Cleary
Farmington, NY

From: Denise Coen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:57:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Denise Coen
Ferndale, WA

From: Jessica Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:57:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jessica Johnson
Selma, CA

From: Betty Keegan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Mon, 06 Jul 2026 23:59:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Betty Keegan
El Paso, TX

From: Michael Norden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:01:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Norden
Defiance, OH

From: Miriam Dunbar <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:02:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

This comment is to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

We should protect the freedoms and wellbeing of all people and create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Miriam Dunbar
Mancos, CO

From: Susan McClure <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:04:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan McClure
Bozeman, MT

From: Nancee Noel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:05:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system supports the protection of the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancee Noel
Hemet, CA

From: Marsha McGovern <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:05:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marsha McGovern
Sun City, AZ

From: Jacoba Dolloff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:05:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jacoba Dolloff
La Mesa, CA

From: Gill Fahrenwald <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:06:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gill Fahrenwald
Olympia, WA

From: Lillian Thompson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:10:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lillian Thompson
Phoenix, AZ

From: Jonathan Mariante <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:11:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jonathan Mariante
Wilmington, NC

From: Grace Lorentzen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:12:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a person of faith who objects to the Draft report from the Presidents commission on Religious freedom.

I especially don't want Religious organizations to make political contributions.

This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Grace Lorentzen
Millbrae, CA

From: Sam Orlich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:12:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sam Orlich
Milwaukee, WI

From: Peter Bromer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:12:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Bromer
Miami, FL

From: Beth Goode <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:14:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am beyond shocked by this "commission's" ideas around religious liberty. Have they read the constitution? Do they know that the separation of church and state is a founding principle of our country?
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Beth Goode
Los Angeles, CA

From: Karen-Marie Mason <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:16:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen-Marie Mason
Silver Spring, MD

From: Nancy Lee <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:16:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Lee
Madison, WI

From: David Walter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:20:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Walter
Roslindale, MA

From: Nancy Marshall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:24:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Marshall
Portland, OR

From: Susan Jordan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:28:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Jordan
Golden Valley, MN

From: Sylvia De Baca <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:29:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sylvia De Baca
San Dimas, CA

From: Jessica Felix <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:29:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jessica Felix
Tucson, AZ

From: Debbie Summers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:31:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Debbie Summers
Panorama City, CA

From: robert rosenblum <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:32:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
robert rosenblum
San Diego, CA

From: "R. M. Jackson" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:34:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
R. M. Jackson
Kansas City, MO

From: Nancy Bukowski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:37:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Bukowski
Carmichael, CA

From: Alec and Sandy McDougall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:38:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

We are submitting this comment to express our opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As people  who believe deeply in the dignity of every person, we urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

Our belief system calls us to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of our neighbors. It calls us to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. We urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alec and Sandy McDougall
Mount Vernon, WA

From: Lisa Buscho <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:38:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lisa Buscho
Eugene, OR

From: Peter Sadlier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:39:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Sadlier
Bedford, MA

From: Marion McNamara <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:40:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marion McNamara
BARRINGTON, IL

From: Ellen Segal <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:44:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ellen Segal
La Crescenta, CA

From: Dawn West <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:44:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dawn West
Sutherland Springs, TX

From: Jasmine Maurer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:44:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Christian who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, and freedom of religion for all, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow perspective that would privilege a select few. Equality under the law for all, diversity and freedom to express our faith as individuals are values I believe in and expect the Commission to take action to protect.

Respectfully,
Jasmine Maurer
Homer, AK

From: Mark Randall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:46:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mark Randall
Portland, OR

From: Renee Olthoff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:51:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Renee Olthoff
Sun City, AZ

From: Mary Copeland <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:53:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Copeland
Sunbury, OH

From: Suzanne Worcester <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:53:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I disagree with the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. Several key Founding Fathers were adamant that our country would NOT be a Christian state, and some specifically articulated there would be separation of Church and State. Those espousing one or both of these views included John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Robert Treat Paine, and Paul Revere.

To argue that our country was founded as a Christian State would disregard the views of these extremely important Founding Fathers listed above. Indeed the Founding Fathers specifically designed the founding documents in our country to be as expansive as possible in the definition of religious liberty including Deists and Non-Deists, Trinitarians and Unitarians, and those who hold no religion whatsoever. This was intentional. The goal was to avoid the bloody religious conflicts that plagued Europe in our great country. And our country has successfully reduced such conflicts because of the work of our Founding Fathers. The Religious Liberty Commission's Report will do the opposite of the Founding Fathers intent by restricting religious liberty of millions of America (including myself, I'm a practitioner of the faith of several Founding Father's religion which has been relegated to "other" in this Administration). Clearly the views of this report do not represent the views of our Founding Fathers.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Suzanne Worcester
Monterey, CA

From: Nancy Guzan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:55:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Guzan
San Bruno, CA

From: Tharen Robertson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:58:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tharen Robertson
San Juan Capistrano, CA

From: Carol Robinson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 00:59:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes in the dignity of every individual, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of many others. "Religious freedom" does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who have various other beliefs or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system urges me to protect the freedom and wellbeing of my neighbors. It encourages me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment, and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, rather than a single narrow, politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Robinson
West Columbia, SC

From: Aimee Morein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:04:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Aimee Morein
Ojai, CA

From: Jeffrey Evans <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:07:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jeffrey Evans
Wintersville, OH

From: Virgene Link-New <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:07:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Love your neighbor. Thank you.

Respectfully,
Virgene Link-New
Anacortes, WA

From: Kaye Lysen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:10:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kaye Lysen
Bothell, WA

From: Margaret McNeil <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:14:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margaret McNeil
Anchorage, AK

From: Lorna Ferguson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:16:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lorna Ferguson
East Millinocket, ME

From: Dawn West <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:20:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Dawn West

[redacted]

From: Matthew Klimczak <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:22:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Matthew Klimczak
Downers Grove, IL

From: Maryellen Redish <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:22:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maryellen Redish
Palm Springs, CA

From: Stephanie Glatt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:27:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Glatt
Buellton, CA

From: Cheryl Eames <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:37:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cheryl Eames
Sun City, AZ

From: Carolyn Shafer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:43:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Shafer
Toms River, NJ

From: Roberta Stern <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:44:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Roberta Stern
Oakland, CA

From: Helen Curtis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:48:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Separation  of church and state is a bedrock of the founding of this country. The founders were well-aware of the societal problems in Europe resulting from countries  combining powers of the two.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Helen Curtis
Spokane, WA

From: Rosemary Clifford <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 01:50:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosemary Clifford
New Rochelle, NY

From: Rich Rohde <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:02:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rich Rohde
Ashland, OR

From: Marge Lofstrom <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:12:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marge Lofstrom
Malmo, ID

From: Mary Hansen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:13:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Hansen
Montgomery, OH

From: Radine Ramsey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:22:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Radine Ramsey
Albuquerque, NM

From: Gene Majewski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:22:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gene Majewski
Addison, IL

From: Melvin Cheitlin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:27:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melvin Cheitlin
San Francisco, CA

From: Tom Atha <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:29:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tom Atha
Alhambra, CA

From: Frederick Tripp <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:32:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frederick Tripp
Lovell, ME

From: Stephanie Dickerson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:33:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Dickerson
Homer, AK

From: Jan-Paul Alon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:49:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jan-Paul Alon
Cherry Hill, NJ

From: Forest Frasieur <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 02:54:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Forest Frasieur
Benicia, CA

From: A Rossner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
A Rossner
Summit, NJ

From: Elena Rumiantseva <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Elena Rumiantseva

[redacted]

From: John Anderson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Anderson
San Diego, CA

From: MARJA LEINO <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
MARJA LEINO
New York, NY

From: Wilbur Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wilbur Miller
Columbus, OH

From: Twyla M Meyer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:00:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Twyla M Meyer
Pomona, CA

From: Ray Waters <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:15:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ray Waters
Jacksonville, FL

From: John Funderlic <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:42:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Funderlic
Schererville, IN

From: Deborah McCreary <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 04:48:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Deborah McCreary
Grand Rapids, MI

From: Abbie Bernstein <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:09:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

This report respects only one religion. That is not religious liberty.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Sincerely,
Abbie Bernstein

Respectfully,
Abbie Bernstein
West Hollywood, CA

From: Peter Lotto <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:28:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Peter Lotto
Fayetteville, NY

From: David Ross <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:35:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Ross
Waukee, IA

From: Rebecca Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:43:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rebecca Johnson
Camden, ME

From: Robert Jehn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:53:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Jehn
Cochranton, PA

From: Warren Kundis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:57:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Warren Kundis
Downers Grove, IL

From: Janice Stewart <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 05:58:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Janice Stewart

[redacted]

From: Gary Milam <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:03:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.
No Trump, no KKK, no fascist USA!

Respectfully,
Gary Milam
Elkland, MO

From: Alice Polesky <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:12:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Polesky
San Francisco, CA

From: James Rice <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:13:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Rice
Middlebury, CT

From: Lora Smith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:15:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lora Smith
VERO BEACH, FL

From: Caleb Pusey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:19:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Caleb Pusey
Asheville, NC

From: Greta Hatley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:21:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Greta Hatley
Concord, NC

From: Teresa Wilmot <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:22:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Teresa Wilmot
ROCKFORD, IL

From: Brian Bode <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:25:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Bode
Rosemount, MN

From: marilyn w <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:43:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
marilyn w
Uxbridge, MA

From: Mindie Flamholz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:50:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mindie Flamholz
Baltimore, MD

From: Dawne Kinsey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 06:59:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dawne Kinsey
Tippecanoe, IN

From: Wayne Carlson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:00:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wayne Carlson
Palm Bay, FL

From: Ellen Corcella <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:00:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. We are a country that values the views of Catholics, Jews, Muslims. Mainstream Protestants and others who live faithfully side by side. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ellen Corcella
Indianapolis, IN

From: Marjorie Keiter <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:01:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a clergy person, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone, whether religious or not, is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. And, frankly, I believe they are much fewer than the rest of the population!

Respectfully,
Marjorie Keiter
Glenside, PA

From: J H <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:16:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others.

This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

It is my view that we need "Religious Equality" not "Religious Favortism"...

We need multiethnic gods, deities that look like everyone... Not a government that tries to "erase" international gods, that tries to tell us how many gods there are and what they can or can't look like.

Respectfully,
J H
Preston, MD

From: Michael McCool <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:17:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael McCool
Millbury, MA

From: Marianne Seggerman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:21:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Mixing religion and political power harms religion - as well as discriminating against people of faith whose faith is not included. Religion should be independent and gain its authority without any support from any political power. This report does not protect religious freedom - it harms it.

Respectfully,
Marianne Seggerman
Westport, CT

From: laurie fiesler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:21:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
laurie fiesler
Olmsted Falls, OH

From: Donna Aloise <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:21:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Aloise
Massapequa, NY

From: Nancy Loftin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:23:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Loftin
Toledo, OH

From: Penelope Hooper <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:25:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Penelope Hooper
Evans, GA

From: Tim Jinks <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:30:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tim Jinks
Fort Worth, TX

From: Mercedes Lackey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:31:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am absolutely outraged.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mercedes Lackey
CLAREMORE, OK

From: Richard Shaffer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:34:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Dear America,
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Uphold my constitutional freedom of religion right. “One nation under God” does not specify that the god be a follower of Christ or any other teacher.

“Religious Freedom” means exactly that. Your biased committee is directed by a biased administration. Please disband.

Respectfully,
Richard Shaffer
Cookeville, TN

From: Anne Burner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:35:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Anne Burner
South Bend, IN

From: Kim Osborne <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:39:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kim Osborne
Decatur, IL

From: Sarah Rose <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:43:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sarah Rose
Port Jefferson Station, NY

From: Brooks Moore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:44:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brooks Moore
Jacksonville, FL

From: Keaton Shenk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:45:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a citizen of the U.S. and a Christian and someone who belives in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Protecting religious liberty should mean freedom of religion as protected by the 1st amendment -- freedom for different expressions of Christianity, as well as freedom for any religion that exists in our country. One narrow set of religious viewpoints does not respect the rights and safety of all.

I dream of and urge us all to work for a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. God sees us all as beloved children. Anything in this report that does not reflect genuine religious pluralism, but would privilege a select few, does not belong in our democracy where the rights of all must be protected.

Respectfully,
Keaton Shenk
Harrisonburg, VA

From: Carolyn Alden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:47:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Alden
Naples, FL

From: Wiliam McFall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:48:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wiliam McFall
Denver, CO

From: J Tighe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:52:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of All of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
J Tighe
Hanover, PA

From: Ann Throop <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:54:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ann Throop
Souderton, PA

From: Jimmie Robinson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:54:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jimmie Robinson
PENSACOLA, FL

From: Mary Deffebach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 07:58:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Reading and reflecting on biblical scripture, especially on the words of Jesus clearly states and demonstrates that "Christians do unto other as you would have them do unto you". That means feeding the hungry, protesting the weak, sharing one's talents to help others.

Respectfully,
Mary Deffebach
Melbourne Beach, FL

From: Phil Langley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:04:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Phil Langley
Burlington, NC

From: Judith Rayl <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:06:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a Christian who believes whole heartedly in Jesus's teaching to love your neighbors, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Rayl
Shawnee, KS

From: michele chazkel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:10:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
michele chazkel
New Paltz, NY

From: Sherrill Silver <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:10:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sherrill Silver
New Paltz, NY

From: Gail Beth Works <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:11:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gail Beth Works
Conyers, GA

From: Ann Arellano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:11:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite.

This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

If the proposals set forth in this report are turned into action, they would affect me, my family, my neighbors, my religion in a negative manner. They would not advance freedom or liberty for anyone.

As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself.

This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ann Arellano
Downers Grove, IL

From: Harold Littleton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:12:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Separation means just that—separation of your and my religious beliefs from policy imposition.

Respectfully,
Harold Littleton
Asheville, NC

From: Emma Krueger <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:15:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emma Krueger
Mentor, OH

From: Jesse Younce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:17:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jesse Younce
Milford, MI

From: marilyn shup <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:17:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
marilyn shup
Asheville, NC

From: Nancy Zavodny <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:18:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Zavodny
Boyceville, WI

From: John Peirce <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:21:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am writing to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty. It does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically-driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Peirce
McFarland, WI

From: Linda Bollenbach <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:22:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As a Christian who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Bollenbach
Nixa, MO

From: CHARLOTTE LEHMANN <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:22:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
CHARLOTTE LEHMANN
MANASSAS, VA

From: Rosemary Maziarz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:22:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I attended parochial school as a child. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosemary Maziarz
Saint Charles, IL, IL

From: Dorothy Dorothy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:24:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dorothy Dorothy
Millsboro, DE

From: Laura Remington <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:26:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laura Remington
Deland, FL

From: Elliot Halberg <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:27:03 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Six Million Jews like me died because of religious bigotry and hatred of those who are different.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elliot Halberg
Chesterfield, MI

From: Tom Cordaro <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:31:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tom Cordaro
Aurora, IL

From: Henry Sammis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:38:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Henry Sammis
Hollis, NH

From: Terrie Phenicie <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:39:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terrie Phenicie
Athelstane, WI

From: Dianne Yaunches <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:40:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As Americans we have the right to worship in our own faiths. No one can dictate my beliefs.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dianne Yaunches
Rockville, MD

From: Blaze Swieton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:43:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Blaze Swieton
Lenexa, KS

From: Jane Bloom <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:43:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jane Bloom
New Paltz, NY

From: Frances Marquart <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:47:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Frances Marquart
Lakewood, WA

From: Ruth Kay Souder <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:47:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ruth Kay Souder
Red Hill, PA

From: Elizabeth Snyder <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:47:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I strongly oppose controls that limit the constitutionally protected freedom to worship.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Snyder
Birmingham, MI

From: Brian Whitman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:50:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Brian Whitman
Pittsfield, MA

From: Tanja Snelling <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:50:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tanja Snelling
Brandon, FL

From: James A Clark Jr <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:50:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James A Clark Jr
Colorado Springs, CO

From: Alexander Griffith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:52:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alexander Griffith
Ambridge, PA

From: Meredith Kent-Berman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:55:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Meredith Kent-Berman
New York, NY

From: Dennis Ledden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:58:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dennis Ledden
Sequim, WA

From: Carolyn McKinney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 08:58:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am writing about serious concerns concerning the draft report by the Religious Liberty Commission. Religious liberty applies to all, not just Christians like myself.

While the report claims to protect religious liberty, but it seems to do the opposite. I fear it puts neighbors, family and friends at risk if they don't share the same version even of Christianity. Religious freedom supports the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people regardless of what they believe.

My Christian belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect true religious freedom and the pluralism that allows.

Respectfully,
Carolyn McKinney
Anderson, IN

From: Elizabeth Goodson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:01:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Goodson
Athens, GA

From: Sharon Hollander <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:04:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sharon Hollander
Ferdinand, IN

From: Dawn Nimmo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:05:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dawn Nimmo
Loves Park, IL

From: Louise Dahlgren <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:05:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Louise Dahlgren
Maple Grove, MN

From: bob nace <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:12:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
bob nace
Pleasant Hill, CA

From: Denise Cameron <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:16:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Denise Cameron
Bronx, NY

From: Tracey McFadden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:19:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tracey McFadden
Elburn, IL

From: Don Barth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:19:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Don Barth
Richmond, VA

From: Michael Dunson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:25:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Michael Dunson
Belton, TX

From: Denise Brennan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:25:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Denise Brennan
Auburn Hills, MI

From: Rosalie Shultz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:25:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rosalie Shultz
Urbandale, IA

From: E K Worthington <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:26:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. In my opinion that is not what our country's Constitution is built on and our ultimate freedom.

Respectfully,
E K Worthington
Greencastle, PA

From: Leah Krippner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:26:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Leah Krippner
Rockford, IL

From: Lynn Steele <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:28:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lynn Steele
Geneva, IL

From: Holly Brauner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:29:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As an ordained clergy person of the United Church of Christ, I am submitting this comment to express my concern and opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My faith and call in ministry calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Holly Brauner
Salem, MA

From: Forrest Ehmke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:30:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Forrest Ehmke
Wichita, KS

From: Ron Verdonk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:31:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ron Verdonk
Clinton, MD

From: Susan O'Neill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:35:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

My own religious affiliation, as a Unitarian Universalist, has already been removed from the Department of Defense's list of recognized religions, so we are already going in the wrong direction of separating religion and government. The original founders of this country, a number of whom were also Unitarians, meant for religious freedom to separate us from the system in England that we rejected. Let's not go backwards.

Respectfully,
Susan O'Neill
Maple Park, IL

From: Thomas Cope <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:37:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Thomas Cope
Medina, OH

From: Marie Garescher <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:37:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marie Garescher
Peekskill, NY

From: Jose Moreno-Lacalle <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:38:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jose Moreno-Lacalle
New Paltz, NY

From: "Rev. Melissa Malcolm" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:40:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. I am a United Methodist Pastor, and I believe people must have the FREEDOM to choose.

Respectfully,
Rev. Melissa Malcolm
Kingsport, TN

From: fred schoell <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:41:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
fred schoell
Overland Park, KS

From: Jo McDaniel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:42:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jo McDaniel
Ashland City, TN

From: Sara Morrison Neil <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:42:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. Freedom means freedom, not the right to oppress others.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow, politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sara Morrison Neil
Framingham, MA

From: Karen Kirk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:42:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Karen Kirk
Williamsport, PA

From: Amber Ives <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:42:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amber Ives
Flagstaff, AZ

From: JOANN SADLER <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:45:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
JOANN SADLER
Correctionville, IA

From: Linda L Johnson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:46:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda L Johnson
Rockford, IL

From: Robert Thomasson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:49:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Thomasson
Williamston, MI

From: Angela Castille <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:49:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Angela Castille
Austin, TX

From: Lorraine Beals <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:50:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lorraine Beals
East Greenbush, NY

From: Scott Kranzusch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:53:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Scott Kranzusch
Waddell, AZ

From: Don Ronken <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:54:22 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Don Ronken
St. Louis, MO

From: Mallika Mohan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 09:59:11 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mallika Mohan
Houston, TX

From: ALISON BARNETT <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:01:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.
ALISON BARNETT M.D.

Respectfully,
ALISON BARNETT
Pittsburgh, PA

From: Craig Holcomb <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:03:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a lifelong Methodist, discussion leader for an adult Sunday School Class, a former Dallas City councilmember and have been an Election Judge for ten years.

The separation of church and state is very important to me and to our country.

Craig Holxomb
[redacted]

Sincerely,
Mr. Craig Holcomb
[redacted]

From: ALISON BARNETT <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:03:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.
ALISON BARNETT M.D.

Respectfully,
ALISON BARNETT
Pittsburgh, PA

From: David Troiano <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:04:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Troiano
Highland Village, TX

From: Justin Miller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:05:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As an American, a Christian, and an Episcopalian aspiring to the Priesthood, I believe deeply in the dignity of every person, and I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I write this as one whose theology is built on the margins of society. This report does not protect religious liberty; it protects religious supremacy. It takes the ancient, necessary protection of individual conscience and twists it into a weapon for the institutional elite. I strongly oppose this draft based on the following provisions:

1. Taxpayer-Funded Discrimination Against LGBTQ+ People
The report seeks to allow religious institutions to cash federal checks while slamming their doors in the faces of LGBTQ+ people under the banner of "religious freedom." In my theology, the table is open to everyone, especially those the religious gatekeepers try to cast out. Taxpayers should not be forced to subsidize state-sanctioned bigotry. If an institution wants public money, it must serve the entire public.

2. Vouchers, Church-State Separation, and Religious Minorities
Expanding school vouchers without civil rights protections is a direct assault on religious minorities. The wall of separation between church and state wasn't built to suppress religion; it was built to protect the people from the tyranny of a state-sponsored church. Funneling public funds into exclusive private religious schools starves the public square and forces everyday citizens to bankroll a religious consensus most do not share.

3. Weaponizing Healthcare Against Women and LGBTQ+ Patients
Healthcare is a vital act of healing in a messy, physical world and, dare I say, a human right. The report's push to prioritize a provider's religious objections over a patient’s survival is deeply dangerous. It effectively allows medical professionals to deny lifesaving care to women and LGBTQ+ people based on a theological purity test.

4. The Cynical Co-opting of Antisemitism
Real solidarity means fiercely protecting our Jewish neighbors from the very real and violent threat of antisemitism. However, this report lays the groundwork to use the fight against antisemitism as a blunt-force tool to police, silence, and target other marginalized communities. Pitting vulnerable communities against each other to consolidate political power is not an act of religious liberty.

5. The Johnson Amendment and Dark Money in the Pulpit
Rolling back the Johnson Amendment is not about free speech for pastors. It is a calculated move to turn tax-exempt churches into unregulated super PACs. The church is supposed to be a refuge for the people—a place for bread, wine, and community—not a dark-money ATM for the political establishment. Allowing corporate interests and political operatives to fund the pulpit destroys the soul of the community.

In summary, this report is a blueprint for Christian Nationalism, an ideology that betrays both the American Constitution and the radical, inclusive reality of the Gospel. I urge you to delete this draft entirely and remember that true religious liberty exists to protect the people from the powerful, not the other way around.

Respectfully,
Justin Miller

Nokomis, FL

From: Joyce Espelund <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:09:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joyce Espelund
Lebanon, OR

From: Sue Szymak <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:16:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sue Szymak
irvington, NJ

From: Edy Lou Mayfield <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:16:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Edy Lou Mayfield
Fort Worth, TX

From: Sheila Crespi <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:20:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans. Separation of church and state is one of the bedrock freedoms of the First Amendment to the Constitution.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Sheila Crespi

[redacted]

From: Stacey Zuckerman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:20:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stacey Zuckerman
Sioux City, IA

From: John Dervin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:20:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
John Dervin
Apopka, FL

From: Elizabeth Flournoy <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:21:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The separation of church and state protected religious freedoms in this land- without it there are losses of rightful freedoms and loss of true Democracy!
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Flournoy
New Haven, CT

From: Nancy Goldsmith <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:21:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Goldsmith
Dames Quarter, MD

From: Tom Nacey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:24:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tom Nacey
Superior, WI

From: Lawrence Schulz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:28:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lawrence Schulz
Westmont, IL

From: laurie strubbe <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:30:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
laurie strubbe
Peterborough, NH

From: Stephanie Fairchild <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:30:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am a lifelong practicing Catholic. I paid tuition for my children to attend Parochail schools, and argued against vouchers as I/we did NOT want the government telling us how to pray, or what to teach about religions!

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Stephanie Fairchild
Cambridge, OH

From: Alice Schemmel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:31:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Schemmel
Oakdale, CA

From: Alice Schemmel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:32:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alice Schemmel
Oakdale, CA

From: Forrest Ehmke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:32:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Forrest Ehmke
Wichita, KS

From: Kimberly Carignan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:33:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kimberly Carignan
Beachwood, OH

From: Lynn Rowan <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:33:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Religious beliefs are deeply personal, and religious freedom is deeply embedded into the founding of our country. No government should dictate what people can think or believe!

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Lynn Rowan

PII
PII

From: Kate Gillooly <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:35:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kate Gillooly
Cleveland Heights, OH

From: Judith Berry <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:37:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Berry
Durham, NC

From: Melissa Barnard <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:37:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melissa Barnard
Central Square, NY

From: SUZANNE Fair <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:41:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. Anything from that devil Trump is worthless.

Respectfully,
SUZANNE Fair
PHOENIX, AZ

From: Kathleen Knoeppel <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:43:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Thank you for taking comments.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Knoeppel
Hartland, WI

From: James Scott Heine <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:44:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
James Scott Heine
Columbus, OH, OH

From: David Ortman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:46:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
David Ortman
New port ric, FL

From: "Dorothy E. Halzack" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:48:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dorothy E. Halzack
Lowell, MA

From: Bruce Cratty <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:56:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bruce Cratty
Akron, OH

From: Richard Worth <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:58:55 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Worth
Rio Rico, AZ

From: Whitney Altopp <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:59:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Religious life has been directed by the Power of the Spirit in this land. God does not need laws in order for God's Spirit to move. This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report proposes that laws will strengthen the God's work in this world. God doesn't need man-made laws in order to work in this world. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors because my God says to "Love your neighbor." My belief system calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity and "do not judge." I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself, acting like an arbiter of each person's personal faith. Our founding father's explicitly said that the United States of America would NOT do that! Our country has flourished because of our humility and our recognition that we cannot direct the work of God.

Respectfully,
Whitney Altopp
Ridgefield, CT

From: Nancy Duerling <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 10:59:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief.

As a United Methodist, I am called  to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. My Christian faith calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Duerling
Cambridge, MD

From: Phillip Patzer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:03:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Phillip Patzer
Cadillac, MI

From: Nora Haenn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:04:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I write to voice opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission, as contrary to the country's founding principles. The founding fathers sought a separation of church and state because they had already seen what it meant for Christians such as the Puritans and Quakers to run afoul of state-sponsored Christianity. Their doctrine of a separation of church and state helped the United States avoid acute arguments and social unrest that continued in Europe and elsewhere. We have benefited from undue religious influence in public life, and the proposals in this report would set the country back 250 years.

I urge the Commission to reject the report's recommendations. Those recommendations will allow for discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment. This sort of discrimination will undermine the religious liberty the report's authors hope to expand.

Respectfully,
Nora Haenn
Pittsboro, NC

From: Berniece Dahl <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:08:06 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Berniece Dahl
Tucson, AZ

From: Carlotta Hayes <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:08:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carlotta Hayes
Hardwick, VT

From: Daniel Zanchi <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:10:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Sincerely,
Daniel Zanchi
Rancho Mirage, CA [redacted]

Respectfully,
Daniel Zanchi
Rancho Mirage, CA

From: Mary Anne D'Ambrosio <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:10:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Anne D'Ambrosio
Bellevue, WA

From: Cynthia Stenavich <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:12:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cynthia Stenavich
Janesville, WI

From: Laurie Plank <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:14:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Laurie Plank
Hummelstown, PA

From: Jeanne Lyle <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:14:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jeanne Lyle
West Des Moines, IA

From: L V <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:17:29 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
L V
San Antonio, TX

From: Sam Aldiero <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:21:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sam Aldiero
Trenton, NJ

From: Hailey McCalip <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:21:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Hailey McCalip
Slaughter, LA

From: Mary Ryan-Hotchkiss <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:23:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I think religious liberty means I can express my belief in God or neighbors without being ashamed of being Christian. Christianity is not the only religious tradition and all peaceful approaches should be respected. Any God worth respecting is the Loving God of all.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Ryan-Hotchkiss
Portland, OR

From: Judith Fenley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:29:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Fenley
Sebastopol, CA

From: Susan Riseman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:30:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Riseman
Sacramento, CA

From: Jodi Daniels <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:31:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jodi Daniels
Maylene, AL

From: Amy Saari <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:33:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Amy Saari
Eastpointe, MI

From: Lauretta Padgett <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:34:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Lauretta Padgett
Sullivan, IN

From: Pia Heyn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:37:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Pia Heyn
Panama City, FL

From: Helen Yeomans <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:38:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Helen Yeomans
Overland Park, KS

From: Margret Cifaldi <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:38:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margret Cifaldi
Las Vegas, NV

From: Joyce Palmer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:43:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joyce Palmer
Rockford, IL

From: "Rev. Lee Self" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:50:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Lee Self
Hickory Creek, TX

From: nan graves <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:51:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
nan graves
Carlsbad, CA

From: Larry Cornelius <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:52:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

It seems the division between politics and religion does not exist in the current social environment. I would call upon all social justice action in our churches to invite/involve the local community to join in their mission regardless of their relationship, or lack of, with religion. I love the new logo. We have a lot of work to do. " Ring the bells that still can ring." I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Larry Cornelius
Sun City, AZ

From: Alena Jorgensen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:52:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

The reason churches don't pay taxes is because they are not supposed to get involved in government. Separation of church and state. If they want to spend money on politics instead of helping the poor and needy, they need to pay taxes.

Respectfully,
Alena Jorgensen
Temple City, CA

From: Diana Day <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:57:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diana Day
Alexandria, VA

From: Alyssa Bolt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 11:58:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alyssa Bolt
Kingsland, GA

From: Richard Nadler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:00:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Richard Nadler
Boynton Beach Florida, FL

From: Margot May <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:05:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Margot May
San Francisco, CA

From: George Hartman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:09:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
George Hartman
Louisville, CO

From: Augusta Rosenauer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:10:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Augusta Rosenauer
naples, FL

From: Suzanne Bowler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:10:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Suzanne Bowler
Kensington, MD

From: Barbara Blesse <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:11:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Blesse
Carterville, IL

From: Jocelyn Davis-Beck <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:13:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Jocelyn Davis-Beck
[redacted]

From: Wanda Wendt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:15:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Wanda Wendt
Des Moines, IA

From: Susan Johnston <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:16:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Excuse me, but I fail to understand how blocking women's rights for medical care is religious freedom? How discrimination against LGBTQ+ people is religious freedom?

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Johnston
Nashville, TN

From: arlene heitner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:19:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
arlene heitner
Mill Valley, CA

From: Bernie Hovden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:23:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bernie Hovden
Sebastopol, CA

From: Lisa Ploch <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:23:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion, or no religion at all, as long as we don't harm others. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Sincerely,
Lisa Ploch

[redacted]

From: Jackie Pluska <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:26:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jackie Pluska
Grayslake, IL

From: Emily Garcia <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:37:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emily Garcia
Houston, TX

From: Kristof Haavik <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:38:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kristof Haavik
Menomonee Falls, WI

From: Kevin Quail <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:43:28 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report, you stupid fucking assholes.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kevin Quail
Placitas, NM

From: Don Wilson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:46:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Don Wilson
Lenexa, KS

From: Sara Lilja <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:50:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sara Lilja
Moorestown, NJ

From: JOHN WILHELM <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:53:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I see it as nothing but a direct assault on the freedom of religion guaranteed by the framers and the constitution. It stands in direct opposition to both the letter and spirit of the first amendment. Instead of supporting the free expression of religion it clearly favors white Christianity over other religions or those who choose not to participate in an established religion. This report should not only NOT be adopted, it should be CONDEMNED for its actual attack on first amendment rights.

Respectfully,
JOHN WILHELM
Cleveland, OH

From: J S Voyles <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 12:59:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am PERSONALLY submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I strongly believe the statements made in this message. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
J S Voyles
Jacksonville, NC

From: Marlen Conrad <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:04:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Marlen Conrad
Portland, OR

From: Niyaf Salafiyyah <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:05:07 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Niyaf Salafiyyah
Jacksonville, FL

From: Elle Coleman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:05:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elle Coleman
Jacksonville, FL

From: Barbara Skadberg Chavez <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:09:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

As a heathen, I deserve to have the same freedom as a Christian. I do not in any way wish for anyone not to follow their own religious beliefs. It is enshrined in our Constitution.

Respectfully,
Barbara Skadberg Chavez
Commerce City, CO

From: Debra Garries <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:11:04 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. We must follow the Constitution.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

That would be unconstitutional.

Respectfully,
Debra Garries
Missouri City, TX

From: Gary Towne <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:13:41 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gary Towne
Harpers Ferry, WV

From: J C <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:20:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the _fake_ Religious Liberty Commission- this isn't Christianity- it's Propaganda !
As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
J C
Germanton, NC

From: Mary Casey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:22:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Casey
Manchester, NH

From: sam peterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:25:43 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
sam peterson
vista, CA

From: Ann Inoue <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:30:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As an Evangelical Protestant pastor and a long-time health care professional, I am submitting this comment to express my deep concern and opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, regardless of faith, gender (I believe there are only 2-4 possible, biologically and genetically), race, ethnicity, national origin, or mental or physical ability, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the reverse. The U.S. Constitution was designed and even amended to progress and protect the rights of all its citizens to live as free people. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors. It calls me to foster a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism and freedom, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ann Inoue
Sayville, NY

From: Alan Lowry <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:34:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Alan Lowry
Connellsville, PA

From: Ellen Killam <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:42:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ellen Killam

[redacted]

From: Fred Nadelman <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:47:44 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few. This indeed does the opposite of its claim.

Respectfully,
Fred Nadelman
Winston Salem, NC

From: Becky Andrews <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:49:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Becky Andrews
Baton Rouge, LA

From: dianne seiffert <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:50:40 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The Religious Liberty Commission has revealed its unAmerican and unconstitutional bias to support to advantage a single religious perspective at the expense and trashing of others that merit equal standing. I strongly oppose this draft report, The Commission needs to disband or start over to create a report that all Americans can be proud of by expanding its membership to reflect the range of religious beliefs represented in this country and who through civil discussion and consideration can create a document all Americans can be proud of. Start with our religious freedoms declaration in The Constitution. The diversity of religious beliefs in this country and the respect of all that their core values assert make our country strong. As someone who believes deeply in the worth and dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

True religious belief protects the freedoms and wellbeing of our neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. The Commission's draft report would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

If members of the Commission cannot produce a report reflecting the strengths if our nation's religious pluralism, then it should recognize it's subversive agenda and disband without issuing any report.

Respectfully,
dianne seiffert
bethesda, MD

From: Teresa Summers-Minette <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:50:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Teresa Summers-Minette
Waynesboro, VA

From: Daryl Ragan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:52:25 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Daryl Ragan
Green Valley, AZ

From: DeeDee Tostanoski <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:55:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
DeeDee Tostanoski
Alexandria, VA

From: Monica Walk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:56:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Monica Walk
Rockford, IL

From: Monica Walk <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 13:58:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. Monica Walk
[redacted]

From: Deborah Bruner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:04:08 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Deborah Bruner
Denver, CO

From: Reed Fenton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:05:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Reed Fenton
Lake Balboa, CA

From: Bonnie LeBlanc <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:19:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE IS IMPERATIVE. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bonnie LeBlanc
Kenner, LA

From: sam peterson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:21:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
sam peterson
vista, CA

From: Dodd WILLINGHAM <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:25:21 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

A cornerstone to this country has been the prohibition of any single religion from imposing its belief in the execution of law and government within the country. This commission's recommendations would enable that to happen. For instance, I expect any government worker and any medical professional to perform their job according to current procedure, law, and best practice. Regardless of whether it agrees with their religious beliefs. Sadly, this report recommends otherwise.

Respectfully,
Dodd WILLINGHAM
Redmond, WA

From: Elizabeth Butler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:25:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

I also reject the provision to roll back the Johnson Amendment, opening the door for tax exempt houses of worship to funnel dark money into political campaigns

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Butler
Henderson, KY

From: Robert Fischer <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:27:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Fischer
CARMEL, IN

From: "P. R. Sturm" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:30:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Throughout history every time church and state have joined both corrupted each other almos conplerely.

Respectfully,
P. R. Sturm
Carson City, NV

From: Sandy Blaha <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:31:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sandy Blaha
LITTLETON, CO

From: Kathryn Pedersen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:36:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathryn Pedersen
Black Mountain, NC

From: Gerald Moore <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:47:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gerald Moore
San Francisco, CA

From: "Rev. Sherman Skinner" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:49:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My faith calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Rev. Sherman Skinner
Denville, NJ

From: Tara Giunta <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 14:53:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

In her final opinion as a Supreme Court justice in 2005, Sandra Day O'Connor, a judicial conservative, reflected on the importance of church-state separation to guarantee full religious freedom. "The First Amendment expresses our Nation's fundamental commitment to religious liberty by means of two provisions – one protecting the free exercise of religion, the other barring establishment of religion."

She concluded with a challenge: "Those who would renegotiate the boundaries between church and state must therefore answer a difficult question: Why would we trade a system that has served us so well for one that has served others so poorly?"

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

I urge you to maintain the separation of church and state.

Sincerely,
Tara Giunta

[redacted]

From: Ginger Randall <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:02:48 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I'm submitting this comment to state my firm opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. I believe deeply in the dignity of every single person — not a select few — and I'm urging the Commission to substantially revise these recommendations before finalizing anything.

Let's be honest about what this report actually does. It claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite: it elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while sidelining the rights and safety of everyone else. That's not religious freedom — that's religious favoritism wearing freedom's name. True religious liberty was never meant to be a weapon one belief system gets to wield over the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently, or who hold no religious belief at all.

My own belief system calls me to something bigger than that — to protect my neighbors, all of them, and to help build a society where everyone stands on equal footing regardless of what they believe or don't. I'm asking this Commission to reject any recommendation that would open the door to discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, or employment. Recommendations like that don't protect religious liberty — they hollow it out from the inside.

If this report is going to mean anything, it needs to reflect genuine religious pluralism — not a single narrow, politically driven perspective dressed up to look like principle.

Respectfully,
Ginger Randall
Longmont, CO

From: "Rev. Cindy Briggs-Biondi" <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:03:58 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I submit this comment as a Christian pastor who believes deeply in religious liberty. True religious freedom protects every person's right to believe, worship, or even not believe, according to their own conscience. It does not give one religious tradition the power to impose its beliefs on others through government policy.

The Commission's draft report does not strengthen religious liberty. It weakens it by blurring the constitutional line between church and state. That separation is not hostility toward religion, or toward Christianity. It is what has allowed people of many faiths, and of no faith, to live together in freedom.

The report's recommendations would allow religious organizations receiving taxpayer funding to discriminate against LGBTQ+ people, expand school voucher programs without adequate protections for religious minorities, elevate providers' religious objections over patients' access to medically necessary care, weaken the Johnson Amendment by inviting tax-exempt houses of worship into partisan politics, and use concerns about antisemitism in ways that risk targeting other communities.

I am very much for religious liberty, but these recommendations do not expand it. They privilege some religious beliefs at the expense of others. They risk forcing taxpayers to fund discrimination rooted in someone else's theology. They expose children from minority faiths to educational systems that may not respect their own beliefs. They allow one person's religious convictions to limit another person's access to healthcare, and they invite political parties to use churches as vehicles for campaign spending. That compromises both the integrity of our elections and the prophetic independence of our many and varied faith communities.

As a Christian and as a pastor, I do not want the government telling me, or any other church, what to preach. But I also do not want the government endorsing my faith over someone else's or allowing my religious beliefs to determine another person's rights. That is not religious liberty, it is religious privilege.

Americans hold many different religious beliefs and moral convictions, but our Constitution protects the freedom of each person to live according to conscience without government favoring one faith over another. The First Amendment protects both the free exercise of religion and against the establishment of religion because these principles belong together. When either is weakened, everyone's freedom is at risk.

I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that erode church-state separation and instead embrace a vision of religious liberty that protects the equal rights, dignity, and freedom of all people, regardless of their faith, or lack thereof.

Respectfully,
Rev. Cindy Briggs-Biondi
Charleston, WV

From: Nancy Lanier <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:04:23 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

America has always been a diverse population made up of people of different ways of life including religion. Our government and supreme court should continue to keep government and religion separate.

Sincerely,

Nancy W. Lanier

Sincerely,
Nancy Lanier

PII PII

From: Judith Griffin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:14:30 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am sending this letter to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. I was educated in elementary and college Catholic schools, and sent my children to Catholic schools, and public universities. I appreciate the freedom to choose those, but NOT to have the government show any preference to religious groups. This is the opposite of the whole reason of the founding of our country, and the intention of the constitution. We are all equal brothers and sisters.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to work for a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious PLURALISM, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Judith Griffin
Saint Joseph, MN

From: Polly García <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:15:59 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Polly García
Oakland, CA

From: Maggie Louden <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:16:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maggie Louden
Hedgesville, WV

From: Kaye Ratliff <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:20:00 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kaye Ratliff
Wadesboro, NC

From: Geri Inama <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:23:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

Our Constitution states plainly and unequivocally that our government will be separate from any theological restraints or beliefs. I object strongly to the notion, that this commission seems to adhere to, that I need any so-called religious leader telling me how to live, or love, or believe, or even exist. This report seems to be another tool of Christian Nationalists to bypass our Constitution and laws.
I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Geri Inama
Anchorage, AK

From: David Cook <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:25:14 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
David Cook

[redacted]

From: Douglas Johnstone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:28:31 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Douglas Johnstone
Jacksonville, FL

From: Christine Manor <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:29:09 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christine Manor
Rockville, MD

From: David High <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:30:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

As a proud graduate of the University of Oklahoma, with a BA Degree in History, and as a former high school teacher of American History, and as a practicing attorney, I know that the separation of church and state is a foundational principal of what makes the United States a great nation. Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

I have watched, in disbelief, the false representation and assertion that the United States is a "Christian Nation." That flies in the face of our nation's history and does a huge disservice to the brilliance of our founding fathers.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate. As a life-long, practicing Christian, it sickens me to see Christianity being highjacked by White Christian Nationalists, and by our current government officials, to create a fictionalized history of our great country.

Sincerely,
Mr. David High

PII
PII

From: r s <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:30:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
r s
Mountain Top, PA

From: Gabriel Stanley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:35:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Gabriel Stanley
Richton Park, IL

From: Eric Wester <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:39:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person and the responsibility we have as a nation to protect free expression of belief and avoid establishing benefits to specific faith groups through preferential treatment, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This draft improperly advances a narrow set of religious views while it claims to protect religious liberty. It works against the vision and purpose of the Commission. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My role as a Christian clergyman and retired Army chaplain calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. I seek to support a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eric Wester
Jacksonville, FL

From: Diana Negroponte <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:45:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Diana Negroponte
Washington, DC

From: Duane Niatum <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:50:50 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Duane Niatum
Seattle, WA

From: Vernon Neece <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:56:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

The 1st Amendment to the US Constituions states: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." This amendment guarantees both the free practice of one's religion, but also freedom from religion. I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Vernon Neece
Durham, NC

From: Jenny Poon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 15:59:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a psychologist, professor, Alaskan, member of a UU church, and someone who grew up in a religious home, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jenny Poon
Anchorage, AK

From: Elizabeth Kinney <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:00:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Kinney
Alamosa, CO

From: Christi Dillon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:00:56 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Christi Dillon
Mooresville, NC

From: Louise Stark <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:01:51 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report. It would represent one of the most un-American, non-patriotic actions by an administration. The vaunted founders were intellectuals, skeptical of religion ruling governments based on the experience of those who fled Europe for what became known as North America. They knew the dangers and unfairness of allowing religion to rule people.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Louise Stark
Phoenix, AZ

From: Susan Summers <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:09:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susan Summers
Carmichael, CA

From: Ronald Field <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:10:16 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ronald Field
Springfield, VA

From: Nancy Ross <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:25:10 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Nancy Ross
Franklin, MA

From: Dan Roark <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:35:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Dan Roark
Dallas, TX

From: Jim Derzon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:39:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jim Derzon
Harrietstown, NY

From: Gene McGill <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:40:53 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

I am an atheist.  I do not confront religious folks about their failth.  So I expect the same treatment from them as well as from my government.

Sincerely,
Mr. Gene McGill

PII
PII

From: debi kaufmann <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:50:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
debi kaufmann
Denver, CO

From: Holly Kooistra <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:57:12 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Holly Kooistra
Grimes, IA

From: Anina Carr <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 16:57:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Anina Carr
Sandisfield, MA

From: Linda David <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:03:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda David
Charlottesville, VA

From: Susie Folks <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:05:54 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I know that this administration has this idea that the separation of church and state isn't constitutional, but you are wrong. It is constitutional. The government is not to condone any faith, nor is a faith to condone a political candidate.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Susie Folks
Pottstown, PA

From: Patriciae Harrison <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:14:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Patriciae Harrison
Harvey, LA

From: g j <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:16:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
g j
Arena, WI

From: Cynthia Crittenton <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:21:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cynthia Crittenton
Newbury Park, CA

From: Barbara Johns <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:21:13 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Barbara Johns
Harrisburg, PA

From: William Phelps <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:26:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
William Phelps
Warwick, RI

From: Mary Schmidt <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:35:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Mary Schmidt
Mound, MN

From: Kathy Sandknop <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:36:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Kathy Sandknop
Ballwin, MO

From: Josephine Baker <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:39:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Josephine Baker
Washington, DC

From: Yahm Levin <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:48:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Yahm Levin
Winnetka, CA

From: Emily Saenz <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:48:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Emily Saenz
Ann Arbor, MI

From: Todd Day <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:52:17 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

GOP AND RIGHT WING "CHRISTIANS", '...YOU CAN NOT SERVE BOTH GOD AND MAMMON.' - MATTHEW 16

YOU ARE FULLY IN THE SERVITUDE OF MAMMON (GREED). YOU CAN STILL SAVE YOUR SOUL. DISCOVER THE REAL JESUS.

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Todd Day
Portland, OR

From: Bianca deLeon <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 17:55:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Bianca deLeon
Fort Pierce, FL

From: Jacqueline Pleet <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:21:32 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Dr. Jacqueline Pleet

[redacted]

From: Melinda Kinnaird <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:33:38 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Melinda Kinnaird
Hot Springs National Park, AR

From: Robert Gill <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:43:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Robert Gill
Fords, NJ

From: Eleanor Jones <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:52:02 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eleanor Jones
Cambridge, MA

From: Cheryl Madeja <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:55:15 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Cheryl Madeja
royal oak, MI

From: Doug Jolley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 18:56:19 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Doug Jolley

[redacted]

From: Joyce Montague <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:04:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Joyce Montague
Gifford, PA

From: Jill Bailey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:06:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jill Bailey
Albuquerque, NM

From: Jan Humphrey <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:11:20 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jan Humphrey
Greenville, SC

From: Lisa Stone <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:23:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. Lisa Stone

PII PII

From: Jean Boller <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:25:39 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Jean Boller
CEDAR FALLS, IA

From: Cornel Bozdog <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:32:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Cornel Bozdog
[redacted]

From: Carol Watts <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:33:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Carol Watts

[redacted]

From: Sheila MAYO <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:34:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Sheila MAYO
Orlando, FL

From: Terri Lombardo <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:47:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

As a person of faith, a solid Jesus follower, I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Terri Lombardo
Land O Lakes, FL

From: Ellen Findley <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:49:49 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Ms. Ellen Findley
[redacted]

From: Curtis Stofferahn <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 19:52:33 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Curtis Stofferahn
Fargo, ND

From: Linda Indyke <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:02:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Linda Indyke
Cockeysville, MD

From: Krystiana Davis <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:04:35 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, as Jesus called us to, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all. True religious freedom is the right to the free will choice to worship or not worship without fear of government interference, retaliation, intimidation, and oppression.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and well-being of my neighbors, not just those who believe like I do. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity regardless of our differences. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

There are more who are against this than there are for this. You are not the majority. Remember that.

Respectfully,
Krystiana Davis
Moncure, NC

From: Carol Benson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:09:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

Separation of church and state is basic and vital to  our existence as the worlds melting pot. It goes along with our statue of libery!

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Carol Benson
albuquerque, NM

From: Maria Tyler <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:10:26 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Maria Tyler
Hampstead, MD

From: Tim Pendergast <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:17:47 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Tim Pendergast
Raymond, NH

From: Robert Goldstein <PII>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <PII>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:22:45 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Dr Robert Goldstein

PII
PII

From: Harriett Katzen <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:23:52 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Harriett Katzen
Columbia, MD

From: Elizabeth Mckernan <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:45:57 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Mckernan
Pasadena, MD

From: Ella McGrail <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 20:58:24 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

I am particularly concerned about the recommendation to roll back the Johnson amendment, which would allow tax-exempt churches to donate money to political campaigns without any transparency. Churches are not people, they are institutions, and they should not have a say in elections. Also, allowing churches to sway elections is a dangerous violation of church and state.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Ella McGrail
Albany, NY

From: Kathleen Davies <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:03:36 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

As a member of clergy in the predominately Christian South, I implore you to safeguard and protect the constitutional mandate of separation of Church and State. On behalf of my Muslim neighbors, my Sikh neighbors, my Jewish neighbors, my non practicing neighbors, and all of the neighbors I ask you to protect all of us and all of our beliefs.

We, as Americans, are better than this fear mongering and exclusion. When students in the future study this moment in History, they will be horrified by the decisions this administration is making. God is not pleased when we make the circle so small.

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Rev Kathleen Davies

[redacted]

From: Addison Jones <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:08:05 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Addison Jones
Merritt Island, FL

From: Donna Spars <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:10:37 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Donna Spars
Franklin, WI

From: Nephi Ferguson <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:13:34 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

The separation of church and state gives us the right to practice any religion or no religion as long as we don't harm others.

Church-state separation protects religious freedom for everyone—religious and nonreligious people alike. It ensures that the government cannot impose religious beliefs on anyone or favor one religion over another. Our Founders recognized that both religion and government flourish when they are separate.

Separation of church and state guarantees that students and families—not government officials—can make their own decisions about religion and religious education.

Church-state separation protects houses of worship from intrusion by the government, guaranteeing their independence and allowing them to remain free from political control and interference.

Church-state separation protects our public schools by keeping coercive prayer out of classrooms. It ensures schools are welcoming for students of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Church-state separation protects taxpayers from being forced to fund religion. Taxpayer dollars should be used for public purposes that benefit everyone.

Church-state separation ensures equal treatment under the law. The government must serve all people fairly, regardless of what they believe or whether they practice a religion, and taxpayer-funded religious groups must not use religion to discriminate.

Sincerely,
Mr. Nephi Ferguson
[redacted]

From: Martha Cludius <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:13:42 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Martha Cludius
Fort Worth, TX

From: Deborah Falik <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:18:18 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

This report claims to protect religious liberty, but it does the opposite. This report elevates one narrow set of religious viewpoints while disregarding the rights and safety of others. True religious freedom does not mean using one belief system to supersede the civil rights, healthcare access, or educational protections of people who believe differently or who hold no religious belief at all.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Deborah Falik
New York, NY

From: Eti Berland <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT – Protect Religious Freedom
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:18:46 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Religious Liberty Commission,

I am submitting this comment to express my opposition to the draft report issued by the Religious Liberty Commission. As someone who believes deeply in the dignity of every person, I urge the Commission to substantially revise its recommendations before finalizing this report.

As a person raised in faith, I am called to speak up when it's used to harm others. The First Amendment states that "no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," but these changes put this foundation at risk.

My belief system calls me to protect the freedoms and wellbeing of my neighbors. It calls me to create a society where everyone is treated with equal dignity. I urge the Commission to reject recommendations that would enable discrimination in housing, healthcare, education, and employment and ultimately undermine religious liberty itself. This report should reflect genuine religious pluralism, not a single narrow politically driven perspective that would privilege a select few.

Respectfully,
Eti Berland
Skokie, IL

From: Robert Hebner <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:34:01 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

At this time of great risk to both church and state, the Religious Liberty Commission can be an organization that goes down in history as monumental in strengthening both church and state when the need to do so is great.

There are many things that you can do. These include:

1. Strengthen the Johnson Amendment. Don't provide financial encouragement via tax incentives for pastors to become politicians. Religion needs pastors.

2. Eliminate school vouchers for religious schools. The state needs the best educated populace it can achieve. The report shows that religious people can do great things. One is to provide alternative schools without government funding if there is a need.

3. Highlight that war is a failure of both church and state, including advocating the use of the legal name for the Department of Defense.

4. When someone else's religious beliefs interfere with mine, there is a civil matter to be resolved to facilitate folks of differing religious beliefs to co-exist in the U.S.

5. The ten commandments and bible stories have no place in public schools. They tend to be inconsistent with the wording in my bible and context provided by my religion. Moreover they attempt to represent only a slice of the nation's religious diversity. The public schools should show that a diverse and valuable landscape of religion underpins our nation.

6. Public schools should be incentivised to teach the diversity and the importance of the U.S. religious culture. That means there is no need for funding to follow students or hotlines. Religions that want to teach only their point-of-view can do so, but they weaken the structure of the state and should not be funded by tax dollars.

7. It is disingenuous for the report to address the coercion of health care workers while ignoring the issue that members of the military might well be forced to the conclusion they are contributing to what is not a just war or worse ordered to commit war crimes.

This report is simplistic and narrowly focused on the problems and solutions. The nation needs better. Take a step back and do better

Sincerely,
Robert Hebner
[redacted]

From: William Stone <[redacted]>
To: "RLC (OASG)" <[redacted]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] PUBLIC COMMENT: Separation of Church and State is Vital
Date: Tue, 07 Jul 2026 21:36:27 -0400
Importance: Normal

---

Dear Members of the Religious Liberty Commission,

Please ensure the Religious Liberty Commission's final report reflects the vital role church-state separation plays in protecting religious freedom for all Americans.

